CHARGE LORRAINE HOMES CONTRARY TO VILLAGE CODE

Police warning

To all autoists

Once again, school days are here, with a considerable increase in enrollment in our four elementary schools within Arlington Heights. Over 1,600 school children will be enroute to and from school daily, some four times, many walking or riding bicycles. Some of these children will be venturing to school for the first time, and are most likely traffic accident victims.

This year, we have added the services of four school crossing policemen, to assist and safeguard our children at vital and dangerous crossings. Other crossings will be guarded by our school patrol boys, assigned to this duty and trained by the school they represent. They are easily recognized by the white Sam Browne belt, worn over their street clothing. During the history of our school patrol system, we have not encountered one single accident, involving our school children. This remarkable record is due to their serious efforts and conscientious work, for which they receive no compensation or reward, other than the satisfaction of safeguarding a fellow student's life, and all they ask in return, is a little cooperation and consideration from us adults and parents.

I am urging all motorists to drive slowly, carefully, sanely and observe all school zones. The sight of a school patrol boy or school crossing officer, will tip you off to watch for school children.

We send our children to school to learn to become good citizens. Let's set a good example. Give them a chance.

Remember, we all love our children. Arlington Heights cannot spare a single child.

To our mothers

A word of caution to our mothers, who permit our children to play in our streets. The streets are primarily a wayfare for traveling vehicles, automobiles, trucks, wagons, bicycles, etc. Sidewalks are for pedestrians.

During the past several weeks, numerous reports and complaints have come to my attention, regarding children playing in the streets. This is a dangerous practice and should be stopped before some child loses his life. Just recently our police have been called to handle several such accidents, children playing in the street being injured by moving vehicles. Fortunately the results have been confined to injuries, although one is of very serious nature. A 9 year old girl suffered a compound leg fracture, after being struck by a moving vehicle, resulting in her being hospitalized for several weeks. Although the girl is at home, her injuries are still of serious and confining nature.

May I urge and prevail upon you mothers to direct your children's play to the sidewalks, yards, and playgrounds of Arlington Heights?

It is indeed a pleasure and fun for us to see a happy child at play, but that pleasure ceases when called upon to pick up a broken and mangled body of a child.

Remember, it hurts to get hurt, especially a child.

It is believed that children are responsible in most cases, and the cooperation of parents is requested to eliminate any further complaints.

Five injured in Labor Day weekend mishaps

Five persons were injured in Northwest suburban traffic but county and state highway police reported no fatalities over the long Labor Day week end.

Alex MacDonald, 42, of Barrington, was injured early Sunday when his automobile collided on Rand road near Foundry rd. with a car driven by Kenneth Johnson, 19, of Chicago.

Both MacDonald and Johnson, along with David Rice Jr., 20, also of Chicago, a passenger in Johnson's car, were taken to St. Francis hospital in Evanston.

STATE POLICE reported Johnson's car skidded into the path of MacDonald's car and then caromed into a telephone pole. Both cars were badly damaged.

Roy Knoll, 18, of Moreland, Kans., was injured early Monday night when the car in which he was riding, driven by Donald Rickmeier, 19, of 402 N. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, overturned on Higgins rd., near Mannheim rd.

Knoll was taken to Northwestern hospital at Des Plaines.

Rickmeier told county police his car skidded while rounding a curve, rolled over and smashed into a telephone pole.

FLORENCE VANDERBECK, 24, of Chicago, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Jay, 25, was injured when the Vanderbeck car collided with a car operated by Ray Hogaboom, 21, of Arlington Heights rd.

The accident occurred Friday night on Wolf rd., between Central and Foundry rds.

Police said the Hogaboom car smashed into the rear of the Vanderbeck machine when the latter slowed up for a hay ride party.

Police officers stop theft, police car not fast enough to make arrest

Sgt. Ray Jahnke and Officer Melbourne recently missed capturing a man who had broken a window at the Big Freeze with the evident intention of robbing the place.

The officers gave chase. Over the radio they attempted to contact Mt. Prospect, but calls to that village must come from the county and both the fleeing would-be robber and Arlington police were through that town before the county police could give the warning over the air.

The police officers were outdistanced. They had at least prevented a robbery.

Local police chiefs attend district meeting

Police chiefs of Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine were among those who attended the district meeting at Skokie this week when Capt. Engstrom, of the state police force spoke on police responsibilities.

Chief Griffin of Skokie received a big applause when he said, "We talk fire and crime prevention. We are expected to also prevent auto fatalities, but the state legislature puts nothing in the way of manufacturers making faster and faster cars and there is little legislation to force motorists to drive safely."

Packard Motor Car Co. rents storage space at Arlington race track

When a reporter saw through the gates of Arlington race track several hundred parked cars, the first thought was that the bookies had found a new rendezvous. He was wrong. The cars are all Packards stored there for future delivery.

The company is evidently trying to beat the steel shortage or the dealers are not able to keep up with the manufacturing of the cars.

3 Mt. Prospect men home from Korea; 2 to remain in service

Three Mt. Prospect soldiers have returned this past week from the Korean theater. They are Don Rogers, Ralph Stevens, and Robert Iverson.

Ralph, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. I. Stevens, is due to continue service with the Marines after his 30 day leave. A Marine corporal, he was with a ground radio control team of the 7th Reg. 1st Marine division most of the 11 months he spent in Korea.

He lost considerable weight during and after the ordeal when the first division was caught in the trap at the Reservoir "up north" last November and December. His decorations include a letter of commendation and the Presidential unit citation.

RALPH HAS emphasized that the United Nations troops have achieved a high esprit de corps, a step toward international understanding.

After his leave he will report for duty at Camp LeJeune, N. C., and expects six months stateside duty. His re-enlistment for a six year stretch has five years to go.

Rogers was an MP with the 24th Infantry Division. A veteran of World War II when he served two years in Panama, he was recalled to active duty last October 11, and after two months training was sent to Korea in December, arriving there January 15.

Homecoming last Friday was especially sweet, since he had not yet made the acquaintance of his baby daughter. He and his family are living with Mrs. Roger's parents, the Jos. A. Staudenbaurs.

In addition to honors accorded the division, Rogers received the Bronze Star for meritorious duty in connection with the retreat of April 22. Unit honors were the Presidential unit citation, Meritorious unit citation and Korean Presidential citation.

THE TERRAIN in Korea is barren and desolate, he said, with "one hill after another." There are no cities of any size except Seoul and Pusan. The objective is to take first one hill, then the next.

Rogers is being released from service under the plan for phased release of enlisted reserves, those who were recalled to active duty involuntarily.

Robert Iverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Iverson, is a newcomer to Mt. Prospect. He is now at Dayton, O., awaiting medical discharge. After spending two years on Guam, he was enroute to Korea when he suffered an asthmatic attack in Japan the night before sailing. Following hospitalization in Japan, where, he says, the medical service is splendid, he was returned to the states for discharge.

Iverson was a sergeant in the air force, working in communications. He found the time on Guam boresome, but filled with hard work due to the shortage of men in communications.

Daylight thieves take $700 in jewelry, cash

Two northwest suburban homes were ransacked in a daring daylight burglary Sunday and thieves made off with loot, mostly cash and jewelry, valued at more than $700.

Looted were the homes of George A. Sturm, Rt. 53 and Kirchoff rd. and Ray Glade, located a block west of Rt. 53 on Kirchoff rd.

Sturm reported to county highway police that $400 in cash, eight place settings of silverware valued at $110 and an electric shaver valued at $15 were missing.

MISSING FROM the Glade home was $25 in cash, four wristwatches valued at $150 and miscellaneous items including an electric shaver, a jewelry box and a pen and pencil set.

Glade said that a complete inventory of household goods had not been completed.

Entrance to the Sturm residence was gained through an unlocked rear window while the burglars smashed a window in the Glade home to gain entrance.

The burglaries were discovered late Sunday night when the Glade and Sturm families returned after leaving home early Sunday afternoon.

Both homes were ransacked. Clothing and the contents of drawers were strewn through the entire house.

Glade said the thieves disconnected a sewing machine and carted it into the breezeway but were evidently scared away before they could load it into an awaiting car.

POLICE PIECED together two pieces of information to set the time of the burglaries at approximately 5:30 p. m.

A relative of the Sturms called at their home about 5:30 p. m. and found the window through which the thieves entered open, but the screen door was locked. It is believed that the burglars were inside the house at that time.

Second, the thieves left open the refrigerator at the Glade home. It was defrosted and the motor had burned out indicating that it had run for some time.

Police were attempting to trace the ownership of an automobile seen parked in that vicinity during the robberies.

NW Betterment group asks full investigation by board

Lorraine Homes, Inc., who are erecting homes in the Arlington Park subdivision, were ordered Wednesday to suspend building operations until the Arlington Heights village board has an opportunity to investigate the complaint made about the legality of the permits issued.

Al Perlin, spokesman for the Northwest Community Betterment group, pointed out to the village board Tuesday night that the village's building code was being violated by Lorraine Homes. Part of the code reads: "there may not be more than two homes of the same architectural design in any one block, and they may not be adjacent to each other or directly across the street from each other."

PERLIN contends that since more than two Lorraine Homes are going up in many of the blocks in the Arlington Park subidvision this part of the code has been violated. He said that just because the position of a window is changed, or the elevation of the home is higher or lower, or the home is set on the lot in a different position, it does not designate an architectural change.

The board will investigate why permits for more than two Lorraine Homes in any one block were issued. The board will not tolerate row housing. It has prevented a similar occurrence in the Scarsdale subdivision and will do everything in its power to stop such housing in Arlington Park.

OFFICIALS of Lorraine Homes have been asked to a special board meeting at the village hall Friday at 8 p.m., to further discuss the situation and to iron out the existing problems.

In the meantime the board will seek architectural advice as to what extent an exterior of a home must be changed to designate an architectural change.

Palatine man second polio fatality

Thomas M... len, 156 S. Ashland, Palatine, died Friday at Evanston hospital, where he was taken 10 days before with bulbar type polio

Mr. Madden is the second polio victim in this area to succumb to the disease this year. Last week Paddock Publications reported the death of Arvid Gunderson of Mt. Prospect, who also had the bulbar type polio.

According to Dr. John B. Hall, county health director, bulbar type polio is not considered too serious unless it requires confinement in a respirator, which is only necessary in a few of the cases.

Madden, who was 35, is survived by his wife and two sons. A complete obituary appears elsewhere in this paper.

There have been no other new cases of polio reported in this area.

Arlington 1951 tax levy places operation costs at $119,000

The tax levy ordinance for the village of Arlington Heights, amounting to $151,105, including bond requirements, and $118,900 for corporate purposes outside of bond requirements, was passed at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night.

The board granted police chief, Carl H. Skoog permission to attend the International Convention of Police Chiefs, which will be held in Miami, Florida, the end of October. The village will pay $300 toward the chief's expenses.

Building permits issued during August totaled $512,317. This included: 15 single family residences, $192,700. 1 factory for Emerol Manufacturing, $120,000. 29 private garages, $25,727; addition to St. Peter Lutheran school, $172,000; and five alterations to houses, $1,890.

May locate Vapor Heating Co. in Heights or Mount Prospect

Engineers for Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights have received inquiry from the Vapor Heating Corp. of Chicago as to the respective facilities of the two villages.

A plant employing about 600 persons is contemplated. It would be located along Central rd., somewhere between Kenilworth ave. in Mt. Prospect and Arthur ave. in Arlington.

The firm is especially interested in water supply, since they would use 50,000 gallons every eight hour working period, or 105 gallons a minute. This would be equal to the entire output of Mt. Prospect's number 1 well, and officials of that village indicated they could not tax the four wells to such an extent.

Arlington Heights wells produce sufficient quantity, according to one official, and with the planned extension of the water works system, could handle this increased volume.

Adults to receive individual, class instructions in driver's training

Delivery of two brand new cars and completion of a trained staff of instructors have paved the way for the opening of the courses of instruction in driver training at the Arlington Heights township high school. These courses have become increasingly popular in this community as they have in many other Illinois areas that offer this type of instruction. Last year a little over 200 students of high school age and adults were taught to drive and secured their drivers' license through the driver training program.

PUBLIC SAFETY today makes it imperative that the beginning driver be carefully trained to take his place behind the wheel of a modern car in today's heavy traffic. Not only are physical skills taught, but attitudes, knowledge of the rules of traffic safety, insurance coverages and mental health are also included in the courses.

Many compliments on the work being done in driver training have come from such prominent officials as the city judge, police chief, magistrates and insurance men of Arlington Hts. and Mt. Prospect school officials and also from the department of public safety, a division of the Illinois state highway police.

Trained instructors and dual control cars make instruction more efficient and complete than can be done in the family car. Every boy and girl is eager to learn to drive as soon as they reach the legal age of 15, and can be taught to be a careful and expert driver.

INSTRUCTION for adults will be of two kinds for this year: first, individual instruction can be had by appointments secured by calling the Adult Education office of the Arlington Heights township high school; this method usually results in completion of the instruction in several weeks or so, depending on the progress of the individual student. Secondly, class instruction will be offered as a division of the Adult Evening school, which will start the first week in October. Under this plan, the individual attends one class lesson a week for ten weeks and also spends one hour a week in the dual control car with the instructor and another student, half the time being spent in behind the wheel operation, and half in observation. The test for the drivers' license is then taken at the end of this ten week course.

Adult instruction is given to the community after school hours and Saturdays, and names are placed on a list as soon as they are received at the high school office. Arlington Heights is one of the few communities in the state that offers adult instruction; driver licensing examinations can be taken here without going to Chicago or Evanston when secured by appointment through the office of the secretary of state.

Five injured in Labor Day weekend mishaps

Five persons were injured in Northwest suburban traffic but county and state highway police reported no fatalities over the long Labor Day week end.

Alex MacDonald, 42, of Barrington, was injured early Sunday when his automobile collided on Rand road near Foundry rd. with a car driven by Kenneth Johnson, 19, of Chicago.

Both MacDonald and Johnson, along with David Rice Jr., 20, also of Chicago, a passenger in Johnson's car, were taken to St. Francis hospital in Evanston.

STATE POLICE reported Johnson's car skidded into the path of MacDonald's car and then caromed into a telephone pole. Both cars were badly damaged.

Roy Knoll, 18, of Moreland, Kans., was injured early Monday night when the car in which he was riding, driven by Donald Rickmeier, 19, of 402 N. Chesnut st., Arlington Heights, overturned on Higgins rd., near Mannheim rd.

Knoll was taken to Northwestern hospital at Des Plaines.

Rickmeier told county police his car skidded while rounding a curve, rolled over and smashed into a telephone pole.

FLORENCE VANDERBECK, 24, of Chicago, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Jay, 25, was injured when the Vanderbeck car collided with a car operated by Ray Hogaboom, 21, of Arlington Heights rd.

The accident occurred Friday night on Wolf rd., between Central and Foundry rds.

Mrs. Vanderbeck was treated by a physician.

Police said the Hogaboom car smashed into the rear of the Vanderbeck machine when the latter slowed up for a hay ride party.

Police officers stop theft, police car not fast enough to make arrest

Sgt. Ray Jahnke and Officer Melbourne recently missed capturing a man who had broken a window at the Big Freeze with the evident intention of robbing the place.

The officers gave chase. Over the radio they attempted to contact Mt. Prospect, but calls to that village must come from the county and both the fleeing would-be robber and Arlington police were through that town before the county police could give the warning over the air.

The police officers were outdistanced. They had at least prevented a robbery.

Local police chiefs attend district meeting

Police chiefs of Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine were among those who attended the district meeting at Skokie this week when Capt. Engstrom, of the state police force spoke on police responsibilities.

Chief Griffin of Skokie received a big applause when he said, "We talk fire and crime prevention. We are expected to also prevent auto fatalities, but the state legislature puts nothing in the way of manufacturers making faster and faster cars and there is little legislation to force motorists to drive safely."

Antique and Hobby show to open Tuesday at Methodist church

The historic old Arlington Hts. Methodist Meeting House with its New England architecture will be the setting for the eighth annual Antique and Hobby show opening at 11 a. m. Tuesday morning, September 11, and closing Thursday evening, September 13.

The Woman's society of the church is sponsoring the event supervised by Mrs. Mark S. Creviston, who is assisted by Mrs. Robert J. Marsh.

The parlors of the church will be transformed into antique shops offering for sale the finest display pieces of dealers from the surrounding countryside. Furniture of fine woods, jewelry of distinction, lamps, useful and decorative china, trivets, buttons, and glass will be included in their offerings. Mrs. John Kent and Mrs. H. J. Gregg are chairmen of the antique dealers.

VISITORS will be treated to demonstrations by many of the hobbyists who will show their collections. Mrs. Albert J. Andersen of Arlington Heights will do some exquisite Norwegian "Rosemaling" on china using an antique Norwegian pattern for the design. Mrs. Stephen R. Brandt of Mt. Prospect will paint figurines, and Mrs. Helen Vasumpaur of Prospect Heights will paint photographs.

Other exhibitors include Major Arthur Batty of Palatine with his gun collection; Mrs. Harvey Orndorff, who will bring her collection of parakeets; Mrs. Elvira Behrens, who will show her self-made rhinestone jewelry; John Bokman of Park Ridge, who will offer his pipe collection for display, and Mrs. John Stoker of Chicago, who has a unique assortment of cricket cages to show. The Camera club of Arlington Heights will contribute some outstanding photography for exhibit.

Of unusual interest will be Mrs. Arthur Batty's creche and angel choir made in Oberammergau by persons who participated in the Passion play.

A youth table of model boats, planes, and trains, will occupy one corner of this hobby section. Mrs. W. D. Jones is chairman of the hobbies. She is being assisted by Mrs. Charles Stadelman, Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. Evrell Plank, Mrs. Joseph Brant, Mrs. Thorlief Larsen and Mrs. B. T. Best.

At nearby St. John's church, quilts of unusual beauty and design will serve as backgrounds for table settings which will furnish practical ideas for modern entertaining.

FLORAL arrangements for the decoration of all the rooms will be provided by Haberkamps, Boettchers, Sauerlands, Busses, and Selmers. Mrs. Wilbur Inman is in charge of show decorations.

Luncheons, teas and dinners will be served all three days of the show. Mrs. Harold Olson has planned complete dinner menus for each evening. The luncheons and dinners will be served in the attractive church dining room arranged by Mrs. John Shanklin. Afternoon teas will be served at St. John's church by Mrs. John Russell.

Admission to the show is 50 cents plus tax. Purchase of one ticket will entitle the holder entrance to the show at any time, so visitors may return many times without additional admission charge.

Mrs. Raymond LaCroix is handling property arrangements and Mrs. Milton Daniels is chairman of advertising.

Mrs. Maynard Whitelaw is president of the Woman's society.

The play, which is being sponsored by the Presbyterian church for the benefit of its building fund, will be directed by Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson. Douglas Anderson is business manager.

Those unable to attend the Sunday tryouts, may try out Monday night at the Malcolmson home, 726 S. Highland. Scripts may be obtained from Kay Hawley, Arlington Heights 2017-R.

"Dear Ruth" will be presented at the Presbyterian gymnasium November 2 and 3.

BENDIX CATCHES FIRE

Arlington Heights firemen were called to the home of William Hatch, 500 Mayfair rd., Saturday evening to extinguish a fire caused by a short in a Bendix washing machine. Damage was limited to the machine.

Packard Motor Car Co. rents storage space at Arlington race track

When a reporter saw through the gates of Arlington race track several hundred parked cars, the first thought was that the bookies had found a new rendezvous. He was wrong. The cars are all Packards stored there for future delivery.

The company is evidently trying to beat the steel shortage or the dealers are not able to keep up with the manufacturing of the cars.

The mobile unit was stationed in front of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged in Arlington Heights Wednesday. Practically all of the old folks took advantage of having a free chest x-ray.

3 Mt. Prospect men home from Korea; 2 to remain in service

Three Mt. Prospect soldiers have returned this past week from the Korean theater. They are Don Rogers, Ralph Stevens, and Robert Iverson.

Ralph, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. I. Stevens, is due to continue service with the Marines after his 30 day leave. A Marine corporal, he was with a ground radio control team of the 7th Reg. 1st Marine division most of the 11 months he spent in Korea.

He lost considerable weight during and after the ordeal when the first division was caught in the trap at the Reservoir "up north" last November and December. His decorations include a letter of commendation and the Presidential unit citation.

RALPH HAS emphasized that the United Nations troops have achieved a high esprit de corps, a step toward international understanding.

After his leave he will report for duty at Camp LeJeune, N. C., and expects six months stateside duty. His re-enlistment for a six year stretch has five years to go.

Rogers was an MP with the 24th Infantry Division. A veteran of World War II when he served two years in Panama, he was recalled to active duty last October 11, and after two months training was sent to Korea in December, arriving there January 15.

Homecoming last Friday was especially sweet, since he had not yet made the acquaintance of his baby daughter. He and his family are living with Mrs. Roger's parents, the Jos. A. Staudenbaurs.

In addition to honors accorded the division, Rogers received the Bronze Star for meritorious duty in connection with the retreat of April 22. Unit honors were the Presidential unit citation, Meritorious unit citation and Korean Presidential citation.

THE TERRAIN in Korea is barren and desolate, he said, with "one hill after another." There are no cities of any size except Seoul and Pusan. The objective is to take first one hill, then the next.

Rogers is being released from service under the plan for phased release of enlisted reserves, those who were recalled to active duty involuntarily.

Robert Iverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Iverson, is a newcomer to Mt. Prospect. He is now at Dayton, O., awaiting medical discharge. After spending two years on Guam, he was enroute to Korea when he suffered an asthmatic attack in Japan the night before sailing. Following hospitalization in Japan, where, he says, the medical service is splendid, he was returned to the states for discharge.

Iverson was a sergeant in the air force, working in communications. He found the time on Guam boresome, but filled with hard work due to the shortage of men in communications.

Daylight thieves take $700 in jewelry, cash

Two northwest suburban homes were ransacked in a daring daylight burglary Sunday and thieves made off with loot, mostly cash and jewelry, valued at more than $700.

Looted were the homes of George A. Sturm, Rt. 53 and Kirchoff rd. and Ray Glade, located a block west of Rt. 53 on Kirchoff rd.

Sturm reported to county highway police that $400 in cash, eight place settings of silverware valued at $110 and an electric shaver valued at $15 were missing.

MISSING FROM the Glade home was $25 in cash, four wristwatches valued at $150 and miscellaneous items including an electric shaver, a jewelry box and a pen and pencil set.

Glade said that a complete inventory of household goods had not been completed.

Entrance to the Sturm residence was gained through an unlocked rear window while the burglars smashed a window in the Glade home to gain entrance.

The burglaries were discovered late Sunday night when the Glade and Sturm families returned after leaving home early Sunday afternoon.

Both homes were ransacked. Clothing and the contents of drawers were strewn through the entire house.

Glade said the thieves disconnected a sewing machine and carted it into the breezeway but were evidently scared away before they could load it into an awaiting car.

POLICE PIECED together two pieces of information to set the time of the burglaries at approximately 5:30 p. m.

A relative of the Sturms called at their home about 5:30 p. m. and found the window through which the thieves entered open, but the screen door was locked. It is believed that the burglars were inside the house at that time.

Second, the thieves left open the refrigerator at the Glade home. It was defrosted and the motor had burned out indicating that it had run for some time.

Police were attempting to trace the ownership of an automobile seen parked in that vicinity during the robberies.

SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN HIT WITH GOLF CLUB

Carol Kindheart, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Butler of Arlington Heights, was seriously injured Sunday while playing at the home of her aunt in Des Plaines. She and a playmate were practicing hitting a golf ball when she was accidentally hit by her playmate on the side of her head with a golf club. Her skull was fractured and a splinter of the bone pierced a vein causing internal bleeding. She was operated upon at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, Monday morning and the blood clot was removed. According to reports her condition is improving.

It is anticipated that Mr. Anderson's talk will be of interest to all.

NW Betterment group asks full investigation by board

Lorraine Homes, Inc., who are erecting homes in the Arlington Park subdivision, were ordered Wednesday to suspend building operations until the Arlington Heights village board has an opportunity to investigate the complaint made about the legality of the permits issued.

Al Perlin, spokesman for the Northwest Community Betterment group, pointed out to the village board Tuesday night that the village's building code was being violated by Lorraine Homes. Part of the code reads: "there may not be more than two homes of the same architectural design in any one block, and they may not be adjacent to each other or directly across the street from each other."

PERLIN contends that since more than two Lorraine Homes are going up in many of the blocks in the Arlington Park subidvision this part of the code has been violated. He said that just because the position of a window is changed, or the elevation of the home is higher or lower, or the home is set on the lot in a different position, it does not designate an architectural change.

The board will investigate why permits for more than two Lorraine Homes in any one block were issued. The board will not tolerate row housing. It has prevented a similar occurrence in the Scarsdale subdivision and will do everything in its power to stop such housing in Arlington Park.

OFFICIALS of Lorraine Homes have been asked to a special board meeting at the village hall Friday at 8 p.m., to further discuss the situation and to iron out the existing problems.

In the meantime the board will seek architectural advice as to what extent an exterior of a home must be changed to designate an architectural change.

Palatine man second polio fatality

Thomas Madden, 156 S. Ashland, Palatine, died Friday at Evanston hospital, where he was taken 10 days before with bulbar type polio.

Mr. Madden is the second polio victim in this area to succumb to the disease this year. Last week Paddock Publications reported the death of Arvid Gunderson of Mt. Prospect, who also had the bulbar type polio.

According to Dr. John B. Hall, county health director, bulbar type polio is not considered too serious unless it requires confinement in a respirator, which is only necessary in a few of the cases.

Madden, who was 35, is survived by his wife and two sons. A complete obituary appears elsewhere in this paper.

There have been no other new cases of polio reported in this area.

Arlington 1951 tax levy places operation costs at $119,000

The tax levy ordinance for the village of Arlington Heights, amounting to $151,105, including bond requirements, and $118,900 for corporate purposes outside of bond requirements, was passed at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night.

The board granted police chief, Carl H. Skoog permission to attend the International Convention of Police Chiefs, which will be held in Miami, Florida, the end of October. The village will pay $300 toward the chief's expenses.

Building permits issued during August totaled $512,317. This included: 15 single family residences, $192,700. 1 factory for Emerol Manufacturing, $120,000. 29 private garages, $25,727; addition to St. Peter Lutheran school, $172,000; and five alterations to houses, $1,890.

May locate Vapor Heating Co. in Heights or Mount Prospect

Engineers for Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights have received inquiry from the Vapor Heating Corp. of Chicago as to the respective facilities of the two villages.

A plant employing about 600 persons is contemplated. It would be located along Central rd., somewhere between Kenilworth ave. in Mt. Prospect and Arthur ave. in Arlington.

The firm is especially interested in water supply, since they would use 50,000 gallons every eight hour working period, or 105 gallons a minute. This would be equal to the entire output of Mt. Prospect's number 1 well, and officials of that village indicated they could not tax the four wells to such an extent.

Arlington Heights wells produce sufficient quantity, according to one official, and with the planned extension of the water works system, could handle this increased volume.

Adults to receive individual, class instructions in driver's training

Delivery of two brand new cars and completion of a trained staff of instructors have paved the way for the opening of the courses of instruction in driver training at the Arlington Heights township high school. These courses have become increasingly popular in this community as they have in many other Illinois areas that offer this type of instruction. Last year a little over 200 students of high school age and adults were taught to drive and secured their drivers' license through the driver training program.

PUBLIC SAFETY today makes it imperative that the beginning driver be carefully trained to take his place behind the wheel of a modern car in today's heavy traffic. Not only are physical skills taught, but attitudes, knowledge of the rules of traffic safety, insurance coverages and mental health are also included in the courses.

Many compliments on the work being done in driver training have come from such prominent officials as the city judge, police chief, magistrates and insurance men of Arlington Hts. and Mt. Prospect school officials and also from the department of public safety, a division of the Illinois state highway police.

Trained instructors and dual control cars make instruction more efficient and complete than can be done in the family car. Every boy and girl is eager to learn to drive as soon as they reach the legal age of 15, and can be taught to be a careful and expert driver.

INSTRUCTION for adults will be of two kinds for this year: first, individual instruction can be had by appointments secured by calling the Adult Education office of the Arlington Heights township high school; this method usually results in completion of the instruction in several weeks or so, depending on the progress of the individual student. Secondly, class instruction will be offered as a division of the Adult Evening school, which will start the first week in October. Under this plan, the individual attends one class lesson a week for ten weeks and also spends one hour a week in the dual control car with the instructor and another student, half the time being spent in behind the wheel operation, and half in observation. The test for the drivers' license is then taken at the end of this ten week course.

Adult instruction is given to the community after school hours and Saturdays, and names are placed on a list as soon as they are received at the high school office. Arlington Heights is one of the few communities in the state that offers adult instruction; driver licensing examinations can be taken here without going to Chicago or Evanston when secured by appointment through the office of the secretary of state.

Mothers of all children attending the school are invited to attend. The mothers of the eighth grade children will be hostesses for the day.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Hobbyists from all over the Chicago area will find Arlington Heights the mecca of their interests and activities next week, for that's when the eighth annual Antique and Hobby show will be held at the Methodist Meeting house. The Woman's society of this church is the sponsor of the show, beginning Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

Local hobbiests will exhibit their finest as will many guest contributors from other towns and antique dealers from far and near. Table decorations, both formal and informal—housed at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church as is the quilt exhibit—are always one of the most popular features of the show.

On the stage of the Methodist church will be a living room furnished in the early American manner. All pieces will be authentic and true to the period.

The Methodist ladies will, of course, serve their popular meals at equally popular prices (and those who have scouted similar affairs in surrounding areas report that the food is both better tasting and less expensive than at other shows).

The Antique and Hobby show—which has already acquired a fine reputation among experts in the field—is fast becoming one of the most-looked-forward-to events of the fall season in Arlington Heights.

For the younger set

Another local institution, now in its fourth year, is the Arlington Heights Community Nursery school, under the direction of Mrs. James Lambdin. It meets five mornings a week from 9 until 11:30 at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Lambdin, a graduate of National College of Education in Evanston, is assisted by Mrs. Joseph Miller and Mrs. John Baker.

The school endeavors to introduce three and four-year-olds to group life in games, crafts and playing together—and it succeeds admirably in its aim. Equipment is up to date, with four new tricycles purchased last spring the latest acquisition.

Only a few more places are available in this year's nursery class, with Mrs. Lambdin accepting registrations during school hours at the church. Parents may enroll their children on a monthly basis, and those who enter now will be able to take advantage of the current $15 monthly rate, which rising costs may force the director to raise.

In the classical manner

Now returning from a successful Canadian tour, Mme. Valerija Riekstina will this month open a school of classical ballet in Arlington Heights. It will no longer be necessary for mothers to make the long trip into Chicago for this type of training.

Mme. Riekstina, in private life the wife of Valdis Terimanis of the Arlington School of Music, is the former prima ballerina of the Latvian National Grand Opera ballet.

After assisting Mme. Alexandra Feodorova, now a ballet mistress in New York and a former prima ballerina of the Russian Classical Ballet in Riga, Latvia, Mme. Riekstina opened her first school in 1938. Following declaration of war in World War II, she entertained our armed forces overseas and was admitted to the United States in 1949.

Official registration day—a red letter day for classical ballet enthusiasts—will be September 15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the field house, but those who wish to register beforehand or want further information may call Arlington Heights 677-R.

Hard Workers

A box car is the hardest worker of all the different types of serviceable freight cars owned by the railroads, averaging a new load of freight every 14 days.

Mr. and Mrs. club meet September 14

The Mr. and Mrs. club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church will hold its first meeting of the year September 14 at 6:45 p. m. at the church.

The meeting will be in the form of a pot luck supper. The program theme will be Arlington Heights chapter of "SPEBSQSA."

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

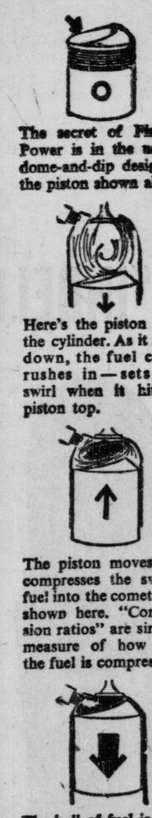
Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.



The secret of Fireball Power is in the use of dome-and-dip design of the piston shown above.

Here's the piston inside the cylinder. As it moves down, the fuel charge rushes in—sets up a swirl when it hits the piston top.

The piston moves up—compresses the swirling fuel into the comet shape shown here. "Compression ratios" are simply a measure of how much the fuel is compressed.

The ball of fuel is compressed around the spark plug—lets loose its pent-up charge when the spark is fired—delivering a higher percentage of power from each charge of fuel.

St. James Mothers' Club to meet

The Mothers' club of St. James Catholic school in Arlington Hts., will hold its first meeting of the new school year September 13 at 1 p. m. at the Field house.

Mothers of all children attending the school are invited to attend. The mothers of the eighth grade children will be hostesses for the day.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Hobbyists from all over the Chicago area will find Arlington Heights the mecca of their interests and activities next week, for that's when the eighth annual Antique and Hobby show will be held at the Methodist Meeting house. The Woman's society of this church is the sponsor of the show, beginning Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

Local hobbiests will exhibit their finest as will many guest contributors from other towns and antique dealers from far and near. Table decorations, both formal and informal—housed at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church as is the quilt exhibit—are always one of the most popular features of the show.

On the stage of the Methodist church will be a living room furnished in the early American manner. All pieces will be authentic and true to the period.

The Methodist ladies will, of course, serve their popular meals at equally popular prices (and those who have scouted similar affairs in surrounding areas report that the food is both better tasting and less expensive than at other shows).

The Antique and Hobby show—which has already acquired a fine reputation among experts in the field—is fast becoming one of the most-looked-forward-to events of the fall season in Arlington Heights.

For the younger set

Another local institution, now in its fourth year, is the Arlington Heights Community Nursery school, under the direction of Mrs. James Lambdin. It meets five mornings a week from 9 until 11:30 at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Lambdin, a graduate of National College of Education in Evanston, is assisted by Mrs. Joseph Miller and Mrs. John Baker.

The school endeavors to introduce three and four-year-olds to group life in games, crafts and playing together—and it succeeds admirably in its aim. Equipment is up to date, with four new tricycles purchased last spring the latest acquisition.

Only a few more places are available in this year's nursery class, with Mrs. Lambdin accepting registrations during school hours at the church. Parents may enroll their children on a monthly basis, and those who enter now will be able to take advantage of the current $15 monthly rate, which rising costs may force the director to raise.

In the classical manner

Now returning from a successful Canadian tour, Mme. Valerija Riekstina will this month open a school of classical ballet in Arlington Heights. It will no longer be necessary for mothers to make the long trip into Chicago for this type of training.

Mme. Riekstina, in private life the wife of Valdis Terimanis of the Arlington School of Music, is the former prima ballerina of the Latvian National Grand Opera ballet.

After assisting Mme. Alexandra Feodorova, now a ballet mistress in New York and a former prima ballerina of the Russian Classical Ballet in Riga, Latvia, Mme. Riekstina opened her first school in 1938. Following declaration of war in World War II, she entertained our armed forces overseas and was admitted to the United States in 1949.

Official registration day—a red letter day for classical ballet enthusiasts—will be September 15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the field house, but those who wish to register beforehand or want further information may call Arlington Heights 677-R.

Hard Workers

A box car is the hardest worker of all the different types of serviceable freight cars owned by the railroads, averaging a new load of freight every 14 days.

Mr. and Mrs. club meet September 14

The Mr. and Mrs. club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church will hold its first meeting of the year September 14 at 6:45 p. m. at the church.

The meeting will be in the form of a pot luck supper. The program theme will be Arlington Heights chapter of "SPEBSQSA."

Candelabra and yellow gladioli formed the setting for the wedding September 1, of Miss Betty Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Price of Central rd., Mt. Prospect, and Orville E. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Hillsboro, Ill.

The candlelight ceremony took place at the South church, Community Baptist, Mt. Prospect, at 3 p. m. Rev. Edwin I. Stevens officiated. Miss Joanne Stublefield of Springfield, sorority sister of the bride, was the soloist.

The bride wore a white chantilly lace gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a lace bonnet. She carried a bouquet of alabaster chysanthemums and yellow roses.

Mrs. Mary Weedles of Paris, Ill., sorority sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua marquisette gown and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

NEWCOMERS AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hennessy

A family interested in many outside activities is the Edward J. Hennessy family. Former residents of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy built their new home at 501 S. Beverly lane in Arlington Heights because they have always liked the atmosphere of the community.

Mr. Hennessy, who is in the travel business, likes practically all sports, among them—sailing, football and hockey. A graduate of Notre Dame university, he also likes to refinish furniture in his spare time. Another interest is photography.

Mrs. Hennessy, a Northwestern university graduate, collects antiques. She is also kept busy with her two children, Carolyn, 3, and Michael, 7, who entered second grade at St. James Catholic school this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Bell

Arlington Heights is a growing community of large families. A few weeks ago we interviewed a family of six children. Five children comprise the Robert B. Bell family.

The Bells, who are now living at 630 Newbury place in Arlington, formerly lived in Libertyville on Pebbly Brook Farm. Previous to this they made their home in Wilmette.

Their children, who were active in 4-H work in Libertyville, are Robert, 12, Dennis, 10, Stephen, 7, Suzanne, 6, and Peter, 2. The children with the exception of Peter are attending St. James Catholic school.

Mr. Bell, who is in the real estate business, likes bowling and golf, and Mrs. Bell is interested in Mothers' club work.

In a double ring, candlelight ceremony August 31, Miss Laura Freise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Freise of Palatine, became the bride of George Thurow, son of Mrs. Anna Thurow of Crystal Lake.

Rev. Fred A. Hertwig officiated at the ceremony which took place at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church of Schaumburg at 7:30 p. m. Baskets of gladioli decorated the church, and Mrs. William Laughlin sang "O Promise Me" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride wore an ivory satin gown fashioned with a nylon yoke, an off-the-shoulder bertha collar and long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a crown trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy with a white orchid center.

Mrs. Richard Zoellick, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a lime green nylon marquisette gown and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. A small spray of yellow roses formed her headpiece.

The bride was honored at three showers previous to her wedding. The showers were given by her sister in Bartlett, her sisters-in-law in Marengo, her aunts in Roselle and the groom's sisters-in-law in Crystal Lake.

NEWCOMERS AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hennessy

A family interested in many outside activities is the Edward J. Hennessy family. Former residents of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy built their new home at 501 S. Beverly lane in Arlington Heights because they have always liked the atmosphere of the community.

Mr. Hennessy, who is in the travel business, likes practically all sports, among them—sailing, football and hockey. A graduate of Notre Dame university, he also likes to refinish furniture in his spare time. Another interest is photography.

Mrs. Hennessy, a Northwestern university graduate, collects antiques. She is also kept busy with her two children, Carolyn, 3, and Michael, 7, who entered second grade at St. James Catholic school this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Bell

Arlington Heights is a growing community of large families. A few weeks ago we interviewed a family of six children. Five children comprise the Robert B. Bell family.

The Bells, who are now living at 630 Newbury place in Arlington, formerly lived in Libertyville on Pebbly Brook Farm. Previous to this they made their home in Wilmette.

Their children, who were active in 4-H work in Libertyville, are Robert, 12, Dennis, 10, Stephen, 7, Suzanne, 6, and Peter, 2. The children with the exception of Peter are attending St. James Catholic school.

Mr. Bell, who is in the real estate business, likes bowling and golf, and Mrs. Bell is interested in Mothers' club work.

Princeton pilgrimage set for this week end

Hundreds will again attend the Princeton pilgrimage September 8 and 9. This Bureau county town was early known as the "Boston of the Middle West" because of its interest in education, its love of beauty and its fine stores and businesses.

A highlight of this year's pilgrimage will be the opening of the Justus Stevens mansion, well over a hundred years old. The late Mr. Stevens was in the mercantile business in Princeton and erected both store and house near the public square.

Miss Herma Clark, author of "When Chicago Was Young," will receive guests on her famous terrace known as Sinners Rest. Here she will tell the guests in her charming style of the "Elegant Eighties," accenting her talk with attic treasures.

A special flower lovers' tour has been planned this year.

Houses and gardens will be open from 1 to 6 p.m.

Literature, drama group to portray history of club

Mrs. William H. Fisher, chairman of the Literature and Drama Study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, has announced that the group will portray the history of the Woman's club as a part of their program this year.

Members of her committee, who are co-operating with her in presenting these programs, are: Mrs. Milton Daniels, Mrs. Harold Lussow, Mrs. William Breitsprecher and Mrs. Walter G. Edelblute.

This season they will present a series of skits, which will be written and directed by members of the Study group. The skits will be based on the history of the Arlington Heights Woman's club as prepared and compiled by Mrs. Milton Daniels, who served as historian for the club during the past season. The skit will be a feature of the February meeting.

In addition to this project, the coming year will see a great deal of emphasis placed on creative writing. Mrs. Fisher stated, "In the past two years every woman from the Arlington Heights club, who has entered the creative writing competition, has come away with a prize in one field or another. This has proven to me that there is a great deal of talent in the club, and our aim is to discover and encourage it."

Book reviews and a study of Pulitzer prize winners are also slated together with a short dramatic sketch.

Mrs. Fisher is well suited to head this department, since she majored in literature at Oberlin college, has written articles and done newspaper work with the Minneapolis Star.

White gladioli and palms formed the setting for the wedding Aug. 18 of Miss Marilyn Jeane Herbertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic H. Herbertz, Palatine, and Donald J. Payne, son of William H. Payne of Long Island, N. Y., and the late Mrs. Payne.

The ceremony took place at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church, Palatine, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Glenn G. Gumm officiated. Harold Berg was the organist.

The bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with cascades of net forming a short train. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Miss Jean Ann Spiccuzza of St. Louis, Mo., was maid of honor. She wore a nile green gown of satin and net and carried a bouquet of pale yellow gladioli.

Mrs. Kenneth Jacobson of Wheaton and Mrs. Donald Winn of New Brunswick, N. J., were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers matched those of the maid of honor.

Arthur Lumkus of Oak Park was best man. Kenneth Jacobson of Wheaton and Thomas Brehm of River Forest were the ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 125 guests.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Washington, D. C., New York and on the coast of Maine. They will live at 1 W. Wood st., Palatine, until September 1, when they will go to Canton, Mo., where the groom will be a senior at Culver Stockton college.

The bride attended Palatine high school and Culver Stockton college.

The bride was honored at showers given by Mrs. Paul Stem and Mrs. Arthur Werdebaugh. Mrs. George Steinbeck of Winnetka, a sorority sister of the bride, also gave a shower in her honor.

Literature, drama group to portray history of club

Mrs. William H. Fisher, chairman of the Literature and Drama Study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, has announced that the group will portray the history of the Woman's club as a part of their program this year.

Members of her committee, who are co-operating with her in presenting these programs, are: Mrs. Milton Daniels, Mrs. Harold Lussow, Mrs. William Breitsprecher and Mrs. Walter G. Edelblute.

This season they will present a series of skits, which will be written and directed by members of the Study group. The skits will be based on the history of the Arlington Heights Woman's club as prepared and compiled by Mrs. Milton Daniels, who served as historian for the club during the past season. The skit will be a feature of the February meeting.

In addition to this project, the coming year will see a great deal of emphasis placed on creative writing. Mrs. Fisher stated, "In the past two years every woman from the Arlington Heights club, who has entered the creative writing competition, has come away with a prize in one field or another. This has proven to me that there is a great deal of talent in the club, and our aim is to discover and encourage it."

Book reviews and a study of Pulitzer prize winners are also slated together with a short dramatic sketch.

Mrs. Fisher is well suited to head this department, since she majored in literature at Oberlin college, has written articles and done newspaper work with the Minneapolis Star.

Princeton pilgrimage set for this week end

Hundreds will again attend the Princeton pilgrimage September 8 and 9. This Bureau county town was early known as the "Boston of the Middle West" because of its interest in education, its love of beauty and its fine stores and businesses.

A highlight of this year's pilgrimage will be the opening of the Justus Stevens mansion, well over a hundred years old. The late Mr. Stevens was in the mercantile business in Princeton and erected both store and house near the public square.

Miss Herma Clark, author of "When Chicago Was Young," will receive guests on her famous terrace known as Sinners Rest. Here she will tell the guests in her charming style of the "Elegant Eighties," accenting her talk with attic treasures.

A special flower lovers' tour has been planned this year.

Houses and gardens will be open from 1 to 6 p.m.

Square dance club plans instructions for beginners

The Palatine Square Dance club is planning a beginners' class this fall. The first class will meet September 19, and classes will meet regularly thereafter on the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Palatine Consolidated grade school from 8 to 11 p. m.

Alvin and Helen Weitzel will be the instructors in both square and folk dancing.

The classes are open to the public, and everyone is cordially invited.

Des Plaines would-be cowboy fractures hip

Joe Coash of the Collignon Nash, Inc., fractured a hip when the horses drawing the Collignon "Frontier Days" rig reared and threw him to the ground.

Joe was sitting in the showroom of the agency while his son, Howard, was loading children in the horse drawn rig in front of the building. Joe noticed the horses getting frisky and walked outside to hold them still.

He grabbed the reins and with that the horses reared, threw him to the ground, and galloped off. With this Howard jumped onto the rig but before he could stop the run-away horses, they crashed into a tree. He was slightly bruised.

Can you guess which are poisons?

As you can see, the drugs in each pair have confusingly similar names. But in each pair, there is one poisonous drug and one that is relatively harmless.

Barium Sulfide is fatally poisonous when taken internally. Its principal use is in certain external applications.

Barium Sulfate is harmless. An insoluble, white substance, it is used as an aid in x-raying and fluoroscoping the digestive system.

Mercurous Chloride is the relatively safe compound of the other pair. It is occasionally prescribed in small doses as a laxative.

Mercuric Chloride is a violent poison if taken internally. It is used externally as a skin disinfectant.

Your pharmacist knows the actions, uses, and dosages of every drug he compounds on your doctor's prescriptions. For he is the legal custodian and dispenser of all drugs, including the most dangerous poisons and the most potent narcotics.

He comes by this public trust by virtue of his training and experience.

Thoroughly trained in his profession, thoroughly interested in you and in your community, your pharmacist is a man you can rely on.

Passage of this issue will provide for the two room addition, which will be completed as soon as possible.

The first PTA meeting of the season will be held at the school house September 14, at 8 p. m. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend. The program will be in charge of the 4-H girls who will give a fashion show and a demonstration of cooking. A movie entitled, "Care of the Lawn," will be shown and following the entertainment the 4-H girls will serve refreshments.

Arlington Heights public school has been awarded the Chicago Tribune $100 prize for showing the greatest progress in agricultural education and the best results of the year. It is one of the five prizes awarded Arlington won over Barrington, Palatine and the rural schools of division one.

A loving cup was won by Wright Catlow of Barrington as the single pupil who made the best showing. The pupils participating in the work under the direction of E. M. Phillips were:

Dist. 13: Walter Neitz, David Sturm, Herbert Sturm.

Dist. 14: James Morris, Seth Morris.

Dist. 15: Dorothy and Josephine Timmermann, Anna Kitson, Robt. Matthei, Anna Kitson, Lawrence Frye.

Dist. 17: Hazel Wilmington, Dorothy Sodt.

Dist. 19: Elmer Harz, Edward Harz, Geo. Rhode.

Dist. 25: Wm. Cleveland, Geo. Ellerbrake, Jessie Beardsley, Rollin Wilke, Ruth Beardsley, Eric Breese, Ruth Chidley, Herbert Chidley, Harold Fitzpatrick, Carl Fehlman, Elmer Krause, Adaline Muller, Marshall Pate, Willard Pate, Earl Sachs, Irving Tesch, Bertha Williams, Geo. Weidner, John Weidner, Margaret and Rose Zoll.

Farmers are organizing for Milk Producers' Assn.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Farmers of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Wheeling realize that in union there is strength even in the milk business and efforts to establish locals of the Milk Producers Assn. in those places is meeting with success. At a recent meeting of the Arlington Heights local the following officers were elected: president, Wm. Melser; vice-president, Ed Pingel; secretary-treasurer, Wm. E. Meier; organization committee, Geo. F. Meyer, August Kelling, Edw. Pingel, Chas. Clausing and Henry Behrens.

Milk producers in the neighborhood of Wheeling have been given a tract of land which will be given to the company which will build the new bottling plant at that place.

Milk producers seek independent bottling

Feb. 4, 1916.—The farmers held a meeting Saturday night at Reimers hall to discuss the building of a bottling plant in Wheeling. Despite the bad weather there was a good attendance and much interest shown.

Predict defeat of Drys unless they wake up

Feb. 18, 1916.—The Drys will have to study and practice some shrewd politics before they can compete with the Wets. Anybody will fight hard to hold a paying job or a profitable business. It is easy to get up petitions but hard to capture the votes. Everybody likes to see a lively contest, but the Drys appear to be too sleepy to arouse any enthusiasm.

Arlington fights for $200,000 paving job

Jan. 7, 1916.—Arlington Hts. has again got its fighting clothes on. It is all about a little $200,000 paving idea and from present indications, it is going to be put over.

Jan. 7, 1916.—The editor can get blamed for almost anything. The latest is the grudge that has developed in the brain of a local Palatine business man because of the success that is meeting his competitor in business who, by the way, is one of the editor's best advertisers. Why should he not succeed?

Jan. 7, 1916.—The P. L. Z. & W. took on 13 passengers at the Ela station on the 4:30 p. m. train Sunday.

Jan. 21, 1916.—Young men of Wheeling have organized the Fraternal Order of Clams. The name Clam conveys an entirely different meaning to those not educated in clamology than it does to the young men who, as members of the Clams, have taken up its study. It is generally supposed that the clam is an animal not at all sociable, closed up tight and entirely indifferent to what goes on around it.

Quite the contrary has been proven by zoological research and observations that have been made by Arthur Fassbender. It has been found that the clam is a very sociable fish and quite conversable when drawn out.

Feb. 11, 1916.—Is the dry moon the result of the anti-saloon petition filed with the Wheeling town clerk last week? Does it signify that the village board will be on their backs for lack of saloon license money after May 1st? If all the women who have a right to vote on the question now, favor the proposition the drys may win, then the wets will have to go to Mt. Prospect or Palatine for their liquor. What will become of our town if paved streets, high school and the drys drive everybody away?

Feb. 11, 1916.—Joseph Hinsberger took first place in the 2nd annual Arlington Heights Poultry Show. Second place went to John Boeger with Wm. F. Meyer Jr., taking third and fourth place. John Boeger took the sweepstakes.

Gloomy days for proposed Arlington Twp. high school

Feb. 18, 1916.—We are very sorry that hopes for a township high school for Arlington Heights are gloomy. It would be a calamity if the street improvement plans fail. Arlington Hts. people must acquire a more progressive spirit and pull together to get the most pleasure and profit for all our people.

Feb. 4, 1916.—When Mail Carrier John Gainer leaves Palatine he does not know if he will see his friends again. The chances are about even that he and his mail wagon will sink so deep in the mud on his route that all trace of him will be lost. Half of his route is over mud roads.

Palatine and Arlington Heights are pikers

Bensenville, a hustling town a few miles south, has placed Palatine and Arlington Heights in the piker class. Two months ago a few people of that town decided that they needed a new school house. An election was held last Saturday to vote on a $27,000 bond issue which was carried with only three votes against it.

Palatine had to fight long and hard to get an $18,000 bond issue carried and some people in the Heights thought they were turning the world upside down when they contemplated a $40,000 bond issue for their high school.

Plan electric line from Evanston to Fox Lake

Feb. 18, 1916.—According to the plans of an Evanston company, an organization is being formed to take over the P. L. Z. & W. railroad, making it a part of an electric line to extend from Evanston to Fox Lake. The village boards of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights and Palatine considered ordinances Monday granting a 50 year franchise to the proposed railroad.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Dr. C. A. Starck and his chauffeur, though decidedly bruised and a broken rib, are congratulating themselves that they were not both killed Monday when the Ford roadster left the embankment near the Kitson bridge and turned turtle pinning both beneath. W. Hines broke his way through the top of the car and helped out the doctor.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Mt. Prospect is happy over the decision of the Supreme Court and will now proceed to erect a fine $15,000 edifice for the Mt. Prospect township high school. They propose to have the new building ready when school opens Sept. 1st. When Mt. Prospect decides to do something it goes ahead.

Jan. 25, 1916.—Who says the streets of Arlington Heights do not need paving? Deep ruts and rolls of mud and clay follow in the track of every vehicle that passes over any street the past week. The stone roads in the country are passable, but the mud in the village is horrible.

Don't kiss your wife is the grippe battle cry

Jan. 25, 1916.—Don't kiss your wife. She can wait. Don't kiss your sweetheart. She MUST wait. If your mother-in-law comes for a Sunday or a holiday visit, let her kisses go over for three weeks. If the sweetheart kiss can not wait, strain it with antiseptic clothes or kiss by proxy. It is all due to the prevalence of grippe in Arlington Heights and Palatine.

Feb. 4, 1916.—A Chicago dairy inspector warned Arlington Hts. business men this week that unless a bottling plant is established here considerable trade will be diverted to other towns. Wheeling will soon have a plant and there are many farmers in the Arlington area who are hauling their milk to other towns.

In the future

Golf enthusiasts will like a new device that enables you to practice in your backyard. A variation of the old ball-on-a-string gadget, this one tells whether you hit it straight, hooked or sliced, and has a chart to show how far your drive would have gone . . . For the homeowner with a septic tank or cesspool, there's a new product to remove grease and dirt from the drains. Just dump it in the sink and flush it down . . . Especially useful for greasing household appliances, fishing reels, shotguns and similar articles is a new fountain-pen-size grease gun being marketed by a Chicago firm.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

School days are here again, and as I watch the kids on my route going back to school, I can't help wishing I could go with them.

Of course, the seats would be a little small, and maybe I would have to study a lot harder to keep up my grades. But I would appreciate the teacher a great deal more than I did as a kid, particularly if she were just starting on her career. No doubt, knowing what I know now, I would respect the older ones as well, for I would feel sorry because they had to contend with generations of children, each different from the other, requiring different handling. There would be mothers and fathers to put up with as well, and I do not know which is harder for a teacher to handle, the kids, or their parents.

It would be fun to play marbles and mumblety peg, baseball and soccer in their season; to get together with the other guys and plan hikes through the woods, or fishing trips; to discuss miniature railroads, airplanes, football and basketball heroes, and the eternal problem for all children, how to get mother and father's consent to some great plan of theirs.

If I could run, shout, holler, climb trees and wrestle with my playfellows after school until dinner time, eat a good meal, go to bed and sleep like a log until morning, and then wake up without a pain or ache in my body, ready to put in another day just like yesterday —gee whillikins, would that be fun!

Then, when I went to high school, there would be basketball and football, girls and dates, with things to laugh about and only a few hours of study and classes between.

Of course, I would have my troubles, too. Everyone would cal me a 'teen ager, talk about how good for nothing the kids are these days, and what is the world coming to, anyway! I couldn't get a driver's license until I was practically an old man of 18 without my parents' consent, and the folks wouldn't [illegible] I just had to have it for that special date with Janice whom I would be just crazy about, and if I didn't get the car I would lose her to Tom Brown, who could drive his dad's car whenever he wanted to, and I might as well sign up for the Marines, only dad wouldn't give me his consent.

Yes, if I were a kid again, life would be full of emotions from great joy to black despair. But the future would be bright, full of rosy dreams. The world would be my apple, and I would be peering eagerly into the future now, instead of reminiscing about the past.

Come to think of it though, with the war, and the draft situation being what it is, it isn't too bad to be far beyond school age.

Weekly recipe

Cream puffs are light, delicious, and not at all hard to make. You can fill them with ice cream, whipped cream, custard, or other fillings of your own choosing. They take longer to make than the ordinary dessert, but are worth the extra fuss, and will be added proof of your cooking skill.

Cream Puffs

1 heavy pan
1 cup water
½ cup butter
4 eggs
1 cup sifted flour

Method: Boil water in heavy pan; add butter and bring to boil. Keep at boling point while adding flour. Add flour all at once and cook, stirring vigorously and constantly until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan and is a thick, heavy oall. Add eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. This will make a very thick dough. Drop by spoonsful on a buttered cookie sheet, piled high. Place at least 2 inches apart. Bake 20 minutes at 450 degrees; reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes longer.

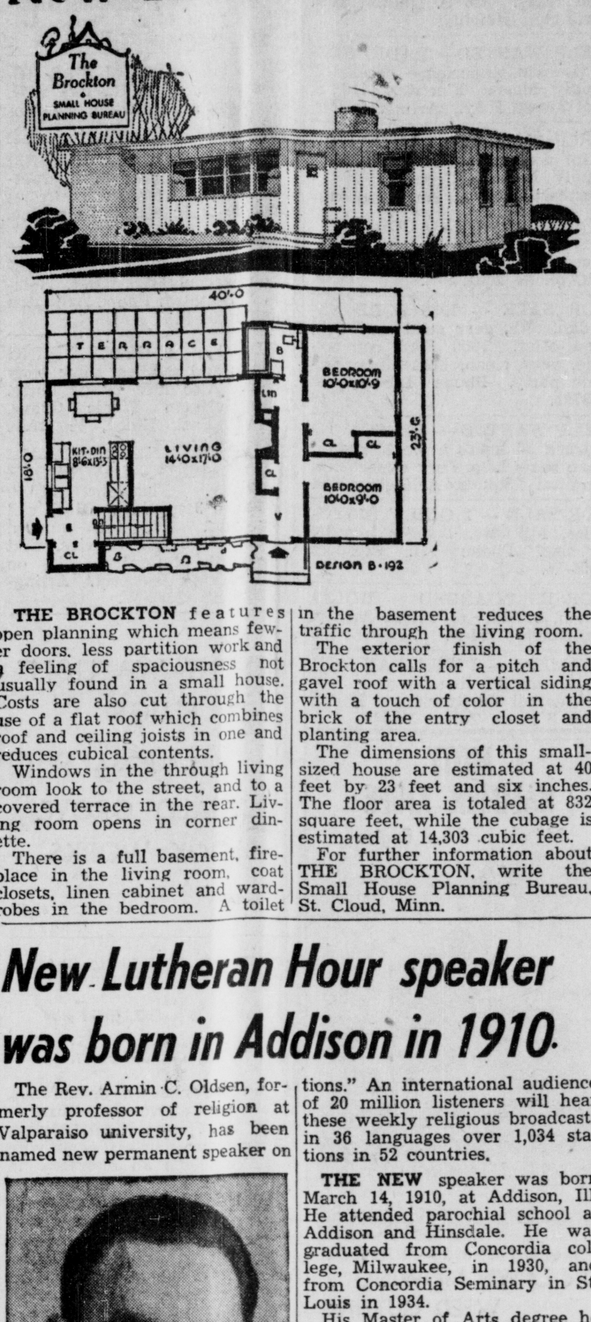
New Ideas in Homes



THE BROCKTON features open planning which means fewer doors, less partition work and a feeling of spaciousness not usually found in a small house. Costs are also cut through the use of a flat roof which combines roof and ceiling joists in one and reduces cubical contents.

Windows in the through living room look to the street, and to a covered terrace in the rear. Living room opens in corner dinette.

There is a full basement, fireplace in the living room, coat closets, linen cabinet and wardrobes in the bedroom. A toilet in the basement reduces the traffic through the living room.

The exterior finish of the Brockton calls for a pitch and gavel roof with a vertical siding with a touch of color in the brick of the entry closet and planting area.

The dimensions of this small-sized house are estimated at 40 feet by 23 feet and six inches. The floor area is totaled at 832 square feet, while the cubage is estimated at 14,303 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BROCKTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

New Lutheran Hour speaker was born in Addison in 1910

The Rev. Armin C. Oldsen, formerly professor of religion at Valparaiso university, has been named new permanent speaker on the International Lutheran Hour, the world's most widespread religious radio program.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Walter A. Maier, founder and only regular speaker for the first 17 years, who died last year.

The Rev. Prof. Oldsen will be presented officially at the Lutheran Hour rally Sunday, September 30, at the Chicago Stadium.

The rally will inaugurate the 19th consecutive season of broadcasting for this program, known as "Bringing Christ to the Nations." An international audience of 20 million listeners will hear these weekly religious broadcasts in 36 languages over 1,034 stations in 52 countries.

THE NEW speaker was born March 14, 1910, at Addison, Ill. He attended parochial school at Addison and Hinsdale. He was graduated from Concordia college, Milwaukee, in 1930, and from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis in 1934.

His Master of Arts degree he received in 1945 from Western Reserve university in Cleveland where he majored in psychology. In addition he attended Cleveland college, Fenn college, and the Tucker School of Expression, all in Cleveland.

The Rev. Oldsen has served in virtually every phase of church activity. He began as assistant pastor at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Lakewood, O., from 1934 to 1940. In June 1940 he was installed as pastor in Immanual Lutheran church at Valparaiso, Ind. During his pastorate there he taught religion and sociology at Valparaiso university and served as special counselor.

HE WAS summer guest speaker for the Lutheran Hour in 1947. His writings include several books and numerous contributions to church publications. As a columnist for a monthly magazine he conducted a forum on personal and family adjustment problems.

He was married in 1926 to Evelyn Angelbeck of St. Louis. They have four sons, Richard Lee, 12, Robert Dave 9, Ronald Charles 6, and Roy Daniel 4.

About Your Health

People are prone to complain about the weather without realizing that individually the body has a wonderful controlling device, helping it to adjust to changing temperatures, according to the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society in a health talk.

The normal body temperature has been standardized at about 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. When changing weather conditions cause the temperature to rise or fall, a little center in the brain, acting like a thermostat, turns loose the mechanisms that help the body maintain its normal temperature.

In the presence of disease or infections, a fever develops, frequently causing the body temperature to rise. On the other hand, there are certain conditions, such as malnutrition and anemia and senility, that produce a drop in the body temperature.

IN A TWENTY-FOUR hour period, it is normal for the normal temperature to vary. On the average, it will rise a degree or so about four o'clock in the afternoon and drop in the same manner at four in the morning.

Heat is produced in the body by the burning of various foodstuffs. This process is called metabolism. The tissues use more oxygen during digestion, exercise and during exposure to cold than when the human body is resting under conditions of warmth.

IN THE AUTOMATIC adjustment of the human body to outside changes of temperature, the evaporation of sweat from the body surface aids in reducing body eat. In cold weather blood flow diminishes through the skin, sweating is minimal and protective clothing is required for comfort. Strangely enough the sensation of heat or cold is not due to a change in the temperature of the body but to a change in the temperature of the skin.

Because of the body's great adaptability to outside or atmospheric changes in temperatures and man's ingenuity in clothing, shelter and air conditioning, there is little need to move or change residences because of the weather. There are some physical conditions, however, that warrant a consideration of the climate. For example, persons with heart disease should avoid high altitudes, while a cool sunny climate is better for the person with the pulmonary type of tuberculosis than a tropical climate.

IT IS CLAIMED, but not proven, that the outside temperature for greatest physical comfort is about 72 degrees Fahrenheit and for mental activity, 68 Fahrenheit. It is interesting that man is able to withstand heat much better than cold. Cold temperatures favor congestion or slowing down of the circulation in vital tissues of the body, whereas high temperatures increase the circulation of the blood through the skin and to the arms and legs.

When we talk about body temperature, or that of the weather, some mention must be made of the humidity. When the humidity is high, our perspiration does not easily evaporate from the skin and we are uncomfortable. High humidities favor bacterial growth and the spread of virus diseases, for germs multiply under moisture. The most comfortable zone of humidity is 65 per cent. This is true only in hot environments.

TEMPERATURE, whether of the body or the weather, has always been a popular theme of discussion. Since little can be done about the weather, it is wise to concentrate on the temperature of the body. Since it naturally has the capacity to adjust in its efforts to maintain its own normal rate, the physical comfort can be achieved by common sense attention to suitable wearing apparel.

THE FENCE POST

Auto costs

In the recently announced higher automobile liability insurance rates, car owners are paying for three things.

They are paying for the fast, bad driving which has brought about an increase of 22 per cent in accidents during the past year, and a 23 per cent increase in resultant injuries.

Motorists themselves, if they would, could do something about this.

Secondly, car owners are paying for that general inflation which makes wages lower and the cost of recovery from injuries higher.

Motorists themselves can do little about this, except in their general role of citizens, in which they should realize that inflation is never a one-way street, but a process which always takes away as much as it gives, or more.

Thirdly, car owners are paying for the new trend in car design. The days when a dent in the fender was a dent in the fender have gone. The type of accident which used to be a minor mishap, requiring the expenditure of a few dollars, has now become a matter of hundreds of dollars. This is because the fender itself is now a part of the body sweep of the car, contains the lights, and because grillwork, when it is damaged, is very expensive to replace.

The accident repair industry, with the advent of the present design of car, has become a major industry, and it is financed largely out of liability insurance premiums.

Whether the motorists could or would choose to try to do something about this we don't know. We should think, however, that no matter how much they may like the present appearance of their cars, they must sooner or later seek some deliverance from the repair cost angle.

It all adds up, however, to the fact that there is only one direct way for motorists to avoid a continued increase in the insurance cost of motoring. That would be to hang up a better safety record. And the chief factor in an improved safety record would be a lower average rate of speed on the state's highways.

Park Ridge woman recovering from burns when cottages burn

Badly burned in a fire at Des Plaines camp grounds, Mrs. Ruby Taylor, long-time resident of Park Ridge, is expected to remain in St. Francis hospital for at least another 10 days.

Mrs. Taylor, who formerly lived on Elm st., was burned Thursday, August 23, when the portable kerosene stove in her cottage at the Camp grounds exploded. Three cottages burned to the ground as a result of the accident.

She was rescued from her flaming cottage by a youth who happened to be passing by, then later returned to the house to try to save her pet cats. It was reported that $330 in cash was burned in the blaze, as well as all her furniture and belongings.

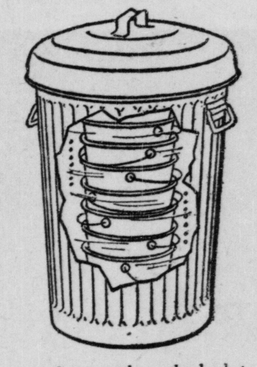
Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Keep Fire Buckets Ready!

FIRE pails, the simplest and oldest form of fire extinguishers, still are an effective method of fighting fires on the farm. Of course, the use of pails is limited to fires on which water can be thrown by hand. They are not effective on overhead fires.



A good way to keep the buckets always filled and ready is illustrated.

Place a large steel garbage can or barrel in a strategic location, stack several galvanized pails, one inside the other, into the container and fill it with water. The galvanized ware is recommended, as it will not rust.

In case of fire, each pail upon being pulled up is filled with water, ready for action.

This fire prevention plan can be carried on even in freezing weather. The following table shows the amount of calcium chloride per gallon of water that will prevent freezing at the indicated temperatures.

Temp. (°F.)	Lbs.	Temp. (°F.)	Lbs.
10	2¼	—20	4¼
0	3	—30	4¾
—10	3¾	—40	5¼

In outlying areas, the best fire prevention is preparedness!

One millionth auto death to be feted

Who will be the one millionth person to die in a traffic accident? Where will it happen? Exactly when?

The National Safety Council said the answers to those questions never will be known.

If the present rate of traffic deaths continues, some time next December a child will dart into the street, a homeward-bound salesman will try to pass a truck on a hill, a young couple will hurtle off a curve on the way to a dance, an old woman will become confused crossing a street—and the millionth traffic victim will pass unheralded into a dusty police file.

But even though the actual identity of the millionth victim will remain a mystery, the Council has made plans which will enable it to name the fateful day as a climax to an intensive safe driving campaign in which all safety organizations are cooperating.

"OUR ONLY purpose in trying to identify such a grim date in history is to dramatize the horror of such a huge traffic toll," said Ned H. Dearborn, Council president. "Perhaps 1,000,000 dead—almost twice the number of Americans who have died in combat in all our wars—will crack the apathy of a nation which can see 35,000 persons killed by autos in a year without much concern.

"It has taken a little more than 50 years to kill the first million. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, it will take only 30 years to kill the second million. We can only hope that this terrible day of seven-figure reckoning will become a safety milestone—not just another gravestone—on the road to more responsible use of the automobile."

Farmers are organizing for Milk Producers' Assn.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Farmers of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Wheeling realize that in union there is strength even in the milk business and efforts to establish locals of the Milk Producers Assn. in those places is meeting with success. At a recent meeting of the Arlington Heights local the following officers were elected: president, Wm. Melser; vice-president, Ed Pingel; secretary-treasurer, Wm. E. Meier; organization committee, Geo. F. Meyer, August Kelling, Edw. Pingel, Chas. Clausing and Henry Behrens.

Milk producers in the neighborhood of Wheeling have been given a tract of land which will be given to the company which will build the new bottling plant at that place.

Milk producers seek independent bottling

Feb. 4, 1916.—The farmers held a meeting Saturday night at Reimers hall to discuss the building of a bottling plant in Wheeling. Despite the bad weather there was a good attendance and much interest shown.

Predict defeat of Drys unless they wake up

Feb. 18, 1916.—The Drys will have to study and practice some shrewd politics before they can compete with the Wets. Anybody will fight hard to hold a paying job or a profitable business. It is easy to get up petitions but hard to capture the votes. Everybody likes to see a lively contest, but the Drys appear to be too sleepy to arouse any enthusiasm.

Arlington fights for $200,000 paving job

Jan. 7, 1916.—Arlington Hts. has again got its fighting clothes on. It is all about a little $200,000 paving idea and from present indications, it is going to be put over.

Jan. 7, 1916.—The editor can get blamed for almost anything. The latest is the grudge that has developed in the brain of a local Palatine business man because of the success that is meeting his competitor in business who, by the way, is one of the editor's best advertisers. Why should he not succeed?

Jan. 7, 1916.—The P. L. Z. & W. took on 13 passengers at the Ela station on the 4:30 p. m. train Sunday.

Jan. 21, 1916.—Young men of Wheeling have organized the Fraternal Order of Clams. The name Clam conveys an entirely different meaning to those not educated in clamology than it does to the young men who, as members of the Clams, have taken up its study. It is generally supposed that the clam is an animal not at all sociable, closed up tight and entirely indifferent to what goes on around it.

Quite the contrary has been proven by zoological research and observations that have been made by Arthur Fassbender. It has been found that the clam is a very sociable fish and quite conversable when drawn out.

Feb. 11, 1916.—Is the dry moon the result of the anti-saloon petition filed with the Wheeling town clerk last week? Does it signify that the village board will be on their backs for lack of saloon license money after May 1st? If all the women who have a right to vote on the question now, favor the proposition the drys may win, then the wets will have to go to Mt. Prospect or Palatine for their liquor. What will become of our town if paved streets, high school and the drys drive everybody away?

Feb. 11, 1916.—Joseph Hinsberger took first place in the 2nd annual Arlington Heights Poultry Show. Second place went to John Boeger with Wm. F. Meyer Jr., taking third and fourth place. John Boeger took the sweepstakes.

Gloomy days for proposed Arlington Twp. high school

Feb. 18, 1916.—We are very sorry that hopes for a township high school for Arlington Heights are gloomy. It would be a calamity if the street improvement plans fail. Arlington Hts. people must acquire a more progressive spirit and pull together to get the most pleasure and profit for all our people.

Feb. 4, 1916.—When Mail Carrier John Gainer leaves Palatine he does not know if he will see his friends again. The chances are about even that he and his mail wagon will sink so deep in the mud on his route that all trace of him will be lost. Half of his route is over mud roads.

Palatine and Arlington Heights are pikers

Bensenville, a hustling town a few miles south, has placed Palatine and Arlington Heights in the piker class. Two months ago a few people of that town decided that they needed a new school house. An election was held last Saturday to vote on a $27,000 bond issue which was carried with only three votes against it.

Palatine had to fight long and hard to get an $18,000 bond issue carried and some people in the Heights thought they were turning the world upside down when they contemplated a $40,000 bond issue for their high school.

Plan electric line from Evanston to Fox Lake

Feb. 18, 1916.—According to the plans of an Evanston company, an organization is being formed to take over the P. L. Z. & W. railroad, making it a part of an electric line to extend from Evanston to Fox Lake. The village boards of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights and Palatine considered ordinances Monday granting a 50 year franchise to the proposed railroad.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Dr. C. A. Starck and his chauffeur, though decidedly bruised and a broken rib, are congratulating themselves that they were not both killed Monday when the Ford roadster left the embankment near the Kitson bridge and turned turtle pinning both beneath. W. Hines broke his way through the top of the car and helped out the doctor.

Feb. 18, 1916.—Mt. Prospect is happy over the decision of the Supreme Court and will now proceed to erect a fine $15,000 edifice for the Mt. Prospect township high school. They propose to have the new building ready when school opens Sept. 1st. When Mt. Prospect decides to do something it goes ahead.

Jan. 25, 1916.—Who says the streets of Arlington Heights do not need paving? Deep ruts and rolls of mud and clay follow in the track of every vehicle that passes over any street the past week. The stone roads in the country are passable, but the mud in the village is horrible.

Don't kiss your wife is the grippe battle cry

Jan. 25, 1916.—Don't kiss your wife. She can wait. Don't kiss your sweetheart. She MUST wait. If your mother-in-law comes for a Sunday or a holiday visit, let her kisses go over for three weeks. If the sweetheart kiss can not wait, strain it with antiseptic clothes or kiss by proxy. It is all due to the prevalence of grippe in Arlington Heights and Palatine.

Feb. 4, 1916.—A Chicago dairy inspector warned Arlington Hts. business men this week that unless a bottling plant is established here considerable trade will be diverted to other towns. Wheeling will soon have a plant and there are many farmers in the Arlington area who are hauling their milk to other towns.

New Ideas in Homes

THE BROCKTON features open planning which means fewer doors, less partition work and a feeling of spaciousness not usually found in a small house. Costs are also cut through the use of a flat roof which combines roof and ceiling joists in one and reduces cubical contents.

Windows in the through living room look to the street, and to a covered terrace in the rear. Living room opens in corner dinette.

There is a full basement, fireplace in the living room, coat closets, linen cabinet and wardrobes in the bedroom. A toilet in the basement reduces the traffic through the living room.

The exterior finish of the Brockton calls for a pitch and gavel roof with a vertical siding with a touch of color in the brick of the entry closet and planting area.

The dimensions of this small-sized house are estimated at 40 feet by 23 feet and six inches. The floor area is totaled at 832 square feet, while the cubage is estimated at 14,303 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BROCKTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

New Lutheran Hour speaker was born in Addison in 1910

The Rev. Armin C. Oldsen, formerly professor of religion at Valparaiso university, has been named new permanent speaker on the International Lutheran Hour, the world's most widespread religious radio program.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Walter A. Maier, founder and only regular speaker for the first 17 years, who died last year.

The Rev. Prof. Oldsen will be presented officially at the Lutheran Hour rally Sunday, September 30, at the Chicago Stadium.

The rally will inaugurate the 19th consecutive season of broadcasting for this program, known as "Bringing Christ to the Nations." An international audience of 20 million listeners will hear these weekly religious broadcasts in 36 languages over 1,034 stations in 52 countries.

THE NEW speaker was born March 14, 1910, at Addison, Ill. He attended parochial school at Addison and Hinsdale. He was graduated from Concordia college, Milwaukee, in 1930, and from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis in 1934.

His Master of Arts degree he received in 1945 from Western Reserve university in Cleveland where he majored in psychology. In addition he attended Cleveland college, Fenn college, and the Tucker School of Expression, all in Cleveland.

The Rev. Oldsen has served in virtually every phase of church activity. He began as assistant pastor at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Lakewood, O., from 1934 to 1940. In June 1940 he was installed as pastor in Immanual Lutheran church at Valparaiso, Ind. During his pastorate there he taught religion and sociology at Valparaiso university and served as special counselor.

HE WAS summer guest speaker for the Lutheran Hour in 1947. His writings include several books and numerous contributions to church publications. As a columnist for a monthly magazine he conducted a forum on personal and family adjustment problems.

He was married in 1926 to Evelyn Angelbeck of St. Louis. They have four sons, Richard Lee, 12, Robert Dave 9, Ronald Charles 6, and Roy Daniel 4.

About Your Health

People are prone to complain about the weather without realizing that individually the body has a wonderful controlling device, helping it to adjust to changing temperatures, according to the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society in a health talk.

The normal body temperature has been standardized at about 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. When changing weather conditions cause the temperature to rise or fall, a little center in the brain, acting like a thermostat, turns loose the mechanisms that help the body maintain its normal temperature.

In the presence of disease or infections, a fever develops, frequently causing the body temperature to rise. On the other hand, there are certain conditions, such as malnutrition and anemia and senility, that produce a drop in the body temperature.

IN A TWENTY-FOUR hour period, it is normal for the normal temperature to vary. On the average, it will rise a degree or so about four o'clock in the afternoon and drop in the same manner at four in the morning.

Heat is produced in the body by the burning of various foodstuffs. This process is called metabolism. The tissues use more oxygen during digestion, exercise and during exposure to cold than when the human body is resting under conditions of warmth.

IN THE AUTOMATIC adjustment of the human body to outside changes of temperature, the evaporation of sweat from the body surface aids in reducing body eat. In cold weather blood flow diminishes through the skin, sweating is minimal and protective clothing is required for comfort. Strangely enough the sensation of heat or cold is not due to a change in the temperature of the body but to a change in the temperature of the skin.

Because of the body's great adaptability to outside or atmospheric changes in temperatures and man's ingenuity in clothing, shelter and air conditioning, there is little need to move or change residences because of the weather. There are some physical conditions, however, that warrant a consideration of the climate. For example, persons with heart disease should avoid high altitudes, while a cool sunny climate is better for the person with the pulmonary [illegible] than a tropical climate.

IT IS CLAIMED, but not proven, that the outside temperature for greatest physical comfort is about 72 degrees Fahrenheit and for mental activity, 68 Fahrenheit. It is interesting that man is able to withstand heat much better than cold. Cold temperatures favor congestion or slowing down of the circulation in vital tissues of the body, whereas high temperatures increase the circulation of the blood through the skin and to the arms and legs.

When we talk about body temperature, or that of the weather, some mention must be made of the humidity. When the humidity is high, our perspiration does not easily evaporate from the skin and we are uncomfortable. High humidities favor bacterial growth and the spread of virus diseases, for germs multiply under moisture. The most comfortable zone of humidity is 65 per cent. This is true only in hot environments.

TEMPERATURE, whether of the body or the weather, has always been a popular theme of discussion. Since little can be done about the weather, it is wise to concentrate on the temperature of the body. Since it naturally has the capacity to adjust in its efforts to maintain its own normal rate, the physical comfort can be achieved by common sense attention to suitable wearing apparel.

Bits o' business

The Navy has let a contract for an atomic powered submarine . . . Factory sales of motor vehicles in July dropped to 492,311 units, the lowest in 18 months . . . Dollar volume of direct mail advertising used by business in the first seven months of this year was 14 per cent higher than the like period of 1950 . . . Makers of fir doors in the Pacific Northwest report production 60 per cent below normal . . . Britain has allowed an increase in scrap steel prices, in an effort to keep its blast furnaces going for the defense effort.

THE FENCE POST

Auto costs

In the recently announced higher automobile liability insurance rates, car owners are paying for three things.

They are paying for the fast, bad driving which has brought about an increase of 22 per cent in accidents during the past year, and a 23 per cent increase in resultant injuries.

Motorists themselves, if they would, could do something about this.

Secondly, car owners are paying for that general inflation which makes wages lower and the cost of recovery from injuries higher.

Motorists themselves can do little about this, except in their general role of citizens, in which they should realize that inflation is never a one-way street, but a process which always takes away as much as it gives, or more.

Thirdly, car owners are paying for the new trend in car design. The days when a dent in the fender was a dent in the fender have gone. The type of accident which used to be a minor mishap, requiring the expenditure of a few dollars, has now become a matter of hundreds of dollars. This is because the fender itself is now a part of the body sweep of the car, contains the lights, and because grillwork, when it is damaged, is very expensive to replace.

The accident repair industry, with the advent of the present design of car, has become a major industry, and it is financed largely out of liability insurance premiums.

Whether the motorists could or would choose to try to do something about this we don't know. We should think, however, that no matter how much they may like the present appearance of their cars, they must sooner or later seek some deliverance from the repair cost angle.

It all adds up, however, to the fact that there is only one direct way for motorists to avoid a continued increase in the insurance cost of motoring. That would be to hang up a better safety record. And the chief factor in an improved safety record would be a lower average rate of speed on the state's highways.

Park Ridge woman recovering from burns when cottages burn

Badly burned in a fire at Des Plaines camp grounds, Mrs. Ruby Taylor, long-time resident of Park Ridge, is expected to remain in St. Francis hospital for at least another 10 days.

Mrs. Taylor, who formerly lived on Elm st., was burned Thursday, August 23, when the portable kerosene stove in her cottage at the Camp grounds exploded. Three cottages burned to the ground as a result of the accident.

She was rescued from her flaming cottage by a youth who happened to be passing by, then later returned to the house to try to save her pet cats. It was reported that $330 in cash was burned in the blaze, as well as all her furniture and belongings.

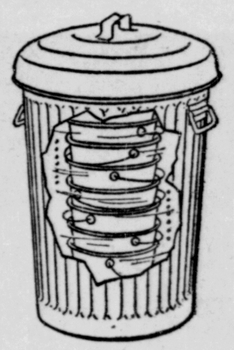
Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Keep Fire Buckets Ready!

FIRE pails, the simplest and oldest form of fire extinguishers, still are an effective method of fighting fires on the farm. Of course, the use of pails is limited to fires on which water can be thrown by hand. They are not effective on overhead fires.



A good way to keep the buckets always filled and ready is illustrated.

Place a large steel garbage can or barrel in a strategic location, stack several galvanized pails, one inside the other, into the container and fill it with water. The galvanized ware is recommended, as it will not rust.

In case of fire, each pail upon being pulled up is filled with water, ready for action.

This fire prevention plan can be carried on even in freezing weather. The following table shows the amount of calcium chloride per gallon of water that will prevent freezing at the indicated temperatures.

Temp. (°F.)	Lbs.	Temp. (°F.)	Lbs.
10	2¼	—20	4¼
0	3	—30	4¾
—10	3¾	—40	5¼

In outlying areas, the best fire prevention is preparedness!

One millionth auto death to be feted

Who will be the one millionth person to die in a traffic accident? Where will it happen? Exactly when?

The National Safety Council said the answers to those questions never will be known.

If the present rate of traffic deaths continues, some time next December a child will dart into the street, a homeward-bound salesman will try to pass a truck on a hill, a young couple will hurtle off a curve on the way to a dance, an old woman will become confused crossing a street—and the millionth traffic victim will pass unheralded into a dusty police file.

But even though the actual identity of the millionth victim will remain a mystery, the Council has made plans which will enable it to name the fateful day as a climax to an intensive safe driving campaign in which all safety organizations are cooperating.

"OUR ONLY purpose in trying to identify such a grim date in history is to dramatize the horror of such a huge traffic toll," said Ned H. Dearborn, Council president. "Perhaps 1,000,000 dead—almost twice the number of Americans who have died in combat in all our wars—will crack the apathy of a nation which can see 35,000 persons killed by autos in a year without much concern.

"It has taken a little more than 50 years to kill the first million. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, it will take only 30 years to kill the second million. We can only hope that this terrible day of seven-figure reckoning will become a safety milestone—not just another gravestone—on the road to more responsible use of the automobile."

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

School days are here again, and as I watch the kids on my route going back to school, I can't help wishing I could go with them.

Of course, the seats would be a little small, and maybe I would have to study a lot harder to keep up my grades. But I would appreciate the teacher a great deal more than I did as a kid, particularly if she were just starting on her career. No doubt, knowing what I know now, I would respect the older ones as well, for I would feel sorry because they had to contend with generations of children, each different from the other, requiring different handling. There would be mothers and fathers to put up with as well, and I do not know which is harder for a teacher to handle, the kids, or their parents.

It would be fun to play marbles and mumbletypeg, baseball and soccer in their season; to get together with the other guys and plan hikes through the woods, or fishing trips; to discuss miniature railroads, airplanes, football and basketball heroes, and the eternal problem for all children, how to get mother and father's consent to some great plan of theirs.

If I could run, shout, holler, climb trees and wrestle with my playfellows after school until dinner time, eat a good meal, go to bed and sleep like a log until morning, and then wake up without a pain or ache in my body, ready to put in another day just like yesterday—gee whillikins, would that be fun!

Then, when I went to high school, there would be basketball and football, girls and dates, with things to laugh about and only a few hours of study and classes between.

Of course, I would have my troubles, too. Everyone would cal me a 'teen ager, talk about how good for nothing the kids are these days, and what is the world coming to, anyway! I couldn't get a driver's license until I was practically an old man of 18 without my parents' consent, and the folks wouldn't [illegible] I just had to have it for that special date with Janice whom I would be just crazy about, and if I didn't get the car I would lose her to Tom Brown, who could drive his dad's car whenever he wanted to, and I might as well sign up for the Marines, only dad wouldn't give me his consent.

Yes, if I were a kid again, life would be full of emotions from great joy to black despair. But the future would be bright, full of rosy dreams. The world would be my apple, and I would be peering eagerly into the future now, instead of reminiscing about the past.

Come to think of it though, with the war, and the draft situation being what it is, it isn't too bad to be far beyond school age.

Weekly recipe

Cream puffs are light, delicious, and not at all hard to make. You can fill them with ice cream, whipped cream, custard, or other fillings of your own choosing. They take longer to make than the ordinary dessert, but are worth the extra fuss, and will be added proof of your cooking skill.

Cream Puffs

1 heavy pan
1 cup water
½ cup butter
4 eggs
1 cup sifted flour

Method: Boil water in heavy pan; add butter and bring to boil. Keep at boling point while adding flour. Add flour all at once and cook, stirring vigorously and constantly until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan and is a thick, heavy oall. Add eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. This will make a very thick dough. Drop by spoonsful on a buttered cookie sheet, piled high. Place at least 2 inches apart. Bake 20 minutes at 450 degrees; reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes longer.

80% of World's Nickel

Sources of raw materials used in steelmaking are being developed extensively in Canada. The Dominion now mines 80 per cent of the world's nickel, and is the source of nearly all consumed by the steel industry of the United States. Canada is the world's second largest producer of zinc and aluminum; the third largest consumer of natrual gas, and has the fourth largest output of copper and cobalt.

OPEN FRIDAY EVENING TO 9

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

We are printing this week a Labor Sunday prayer of intercession for all workers.

"Almighty Father, who dost encourage us to pray for all men: as we rise from the comfort of the night, we remember all those who must wake that we may sleep. We ask Thy blessings upon those who protect us against men of evil will—those who protect our nation and the peace of the world, and those who defend our homes and communities, upon all those watchers who save us from the terror of fires, and upon all the many who carry on through the hours of the night the restless commerce of men on sea and land. We thank Thee for their faithfulness and sense of duty. We pray for Thy pardon if it is our covetousness or luxury which makes their nightly toil necessary.

"WE REMEMBER also all those who labor that food may be brought to our tables, that clothing may be upon our backs, that our homes may be secure and safe from the onslaught of wind and rain. Grant that Thy blessings may rest upon farmers and those who work with and for them. In the minds and hearts and souls of those who labor for purity in the milk and food which strengthens our children's bodies, we ask That Thou wilt encourage purity and uprightness. To tailors and carpenters give a sense of sureness and integrity in the duties of living which is akin to their sureness with seam or joist. Grant that Thy blessings may be richly given to those who labor for their fellowmen. Help each worker to see the part that he plays in the interaction of men with their brothers, that we may know how dependent the safety of our loved ones and the comforts of our life are upon our brothers whose names we may not know, whom we may never have seen.

"Encourage Thy church that it may be truly one, holy and catholic, an interpreter of our human kinship, a challenger to our flagging spirits, an encouragement in our depressions, and an ever-faithful beacon light of Thy mercy and grace to all Thy children. Fill each one of us with a zeal for the declaration of Thy livine love for each sinful man fill each of us with an understanding that Thou hast prepared a way wherein the redeemed of the Lord may walk with Jesus Christ, in whose name we offer all our prayers and our efforts for good to Thee. Amen."

Shoes and Leather

In pioneer days, Americans had to supply their own leather soles to the cobblers who traveled from door to door making and fixing shoes and boots.

John Mangels honored for 40 years service with U. S. Rubber Co.

John Mangels of Palatine was honored Friday by the U. S. Rubber Co. when, as a parting gift after forty years service, he was presented with a gold watch bearing the inscription, Forty Years Loyal Service, U. S. Rubber Co. The presentation was made by the district manager before 200 office employees. He was employed in the traffic department in the district offices of that company in the Merchandise D

The previous day he was asked to attend a luncheon at the warehouse given in his honor where he received a $50 defense bond. He had started with the company in the shipping department in 1911, first at 218 W. Madison st., and later in the Butler building, opposite the North Western depot.

Arlington Heights today joined hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii that will sponsor National Kids' Day on Saturday, September 22. Donald R. Hartman, president of the Kiwanis Club announced today.

National Kids' Day is designed to attract more attention to the problems of underprivileged children and to raise funds to meet these needs. It also attempts to focus attention upon the accomplishments of youth. Most of the 3,300 Kiwanis clubs throughout the continent are also planning observances of the day in cooperation with The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Hollywood, Calif.

"Plans for the celebration here of the third annual Kids' Day are almost complete," Hartman added. "Our entire program, which will be announced shortly, is designed to provide material help for underprivileged youth in our community."

UNLIKE SOME special days on the yearly calendar, National Kids' Day is definitely not a commercial vehicle, Hartman pointed out, and the only ones who benefit by it are underprivileged boys and girls. All funds raised through activities on Kids' Day will remain here to be spent under the supervision of the Kiwanians.

Hartman said that Kiwanis International has been active in youth work for thirty-six years and that this is one of the principal activities of the organization. In 1950, for example, Kiwanis clubs provided 275,688 lunches for needy children and on Kids' Day last year, $277,218 was raised for boys and girls work.

"Despite a possible tendency to overlook youth problems because of world conditions and other campaigns, Kiwanians feel that this program must be increased. We believe that adults must be made even more aware of their responsibilities towards children everywhere with increased emphasis on those children who are less fortunate than the average."

"BY UTILIZING the promotional facilities of The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Kiwanians here are able to join with millions of fellow North Americans in observing a day set aside especially for helping youth."

Announcement of what the local club will do for the kids of Arlington Heights will appear in a subsequent issue.

Kiwanians to hold convention in Chicago

The Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights will be represented at the 1951 convention of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District to be held September 16 to 19 at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, Club President Donald R. Hartman announced today.

Reed C. Culp, trustee of Kiwanis International, will be featured on the speakers program during the four-day meeting. He is president of Culp and Sons Sheep Co., Salt Lake City, one of the largest sheep and woollivestock firms in the west. He is also Utah state chairman of the Advisory Council Civil Defense Committee, and a member of the Board of Governors of Utah Association of United Nations and the Board of Regents of the University of Utah.

In addition to Mr. Culp, who will serve as the official representative of the international community service organization, Donald T. Forsythe, Kiwanis International vice president and a Carthage, Ill., newspaper publisher, will be in attendance.

Delegates from 169 clubs in the district, representing a membership of 10,050 business and professional leaders, will participate in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, and election of officers will highlight the convention program, Hartman said.

The presiding officer will be Chauncey B. Watson, DeKalb, Ill., governor of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District.

Delegates who will represent the Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights at the meeting are L. J. Dahlgren, E. W. Lindemann and D. R. Hartman.

Several of the most popular books recently published have been about the sea. "Kon-Tiki" has been in great demand since it came out about a year ago. "The Caine Mutiny" by Herman Wouk has been a popular marine novel. More lately we have an interesting nonfiction book called "The Sea Around Us" by Rachel L. Carson, and an autobiography "Sails and Whales" by Captain H. A. Chippendale, and a novel "The Cruel Sea," by Nicholas Monsarrat.

"The Sea Around Us" gi the significant facts in the history of the ocean, cove such topics as how the ea acquired its oceans; how life be gan; the hidden lands; life re cently discovered; currents and tides; and mineral resources. It is written with literary skill which makes it fascinating and humanly interesting.

Captain H. A. Chippendale was born at sea; was brought up in St. Helena, where a hundred whalers might be seen in the harbor at one time; and at the age of sixteen signed on as a member of the crew of one of them. He spent many years whaling in the South Atlantic, the Indian Ocean, and the Antarctic—and served with distinction on the seas in three wars. "Sails and Whales" is his personal story of his romantic and adventurous exploits.

"The Cruel Sea" is a novel of contemporary history, dealing with the Battle of the North Atlantic in World War Two. The author knows the sea and its ships from active service—and his story is a tremendous revelation of that cruel and heroic battle.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

We are printing this week a Labor Sunday prayer of intercession for all workers.

"Almighty Father, who dost encourage us to pray for all men: as we rise from the comfort of the night, we remember all those who must wake that we may sleep. We ask Thy blessings upon those who protect us against men of evil will—those who protect our nation and the peace of the world, and those who defend our homes and communities, upon all those watchers who save us from the terror of fires, and upon all the many who carry on through the hours of the night the restless commerce of men on sea and land. We thank Thee for their faithfulness and sense of duty. We pray for Thy pardon if it is our covetousness or luxury which makes their nightly toil necessary.

"WE REMEMBER also all those who labor that food may be brought to our tables, that clothing may be upon our backs, that our homes may be secure and safe from the onslaught of wind and rain. Grant that Thy blessings may rest upon farmers and those who work with and for them. In the minds and hearts and souls of those who labor for purity in the milk and food which strengthens our children's bodies, we ask That Thou wilt encourage purity and uprightness. To tailors and carpenters give a sense of sureness and integrity in the duties of living which is akin to their sureness with seam or joist. Grant that Thy blessings may be richly given to those who labor for their fellowmen. Help each worker to see the part that he plays in the interaction of men with their brothers, that we may know how dependent the safety of our loved ones and the comforts of our life are upon our brothers whose names we may not know, whom we may never have seen.

"Encourage Thy church that it may be truly one, holy and catholic, an interpreter of our human kinship, a challenger to our flagging spirits, an encouragement in our depressions, and an ever-faithful beacon light of Thy mercy and grace to all Thy children. Fill each one of us with a zeal for the declaration of Thy livine love for each sinful man fill each of us with an understanding that Thou hast prepared a way wherein the redeemed of the Lord may walk with Jesus Christ, in whose name we offer all our prayers and our efforts for good to Thee. Amen."

Shoes and Leather

In pioneer days, Americans had to supply their own leather soles to the cobblers who traveled from door to door making and fixing shoes and boots.

John Mangels honored for 40 years service with U. S. Rubber Co.

John Mangels of Palatine was honored Friday by the U. S. Rubber Co. when, as a parting gift after forty years service, he was presented with a gold watch bearing the inscription, Forty Years Loyal Service, U. S. Rubber Co. The presentation was made by the district manager before 200 office employees. He was employed in the traffic department in the district offices of that company in the Merchandise ?

The previous day he was asked to attend a luncheon at the warehouse given in his honor where he received a $50 defense bond. He had started with the company in the shipping department in 1911, first at 218 W. Madison st., and later in the Butler building, opposite the North Western depot.

PROFESSIONAL models will be used throughout the show. The style show will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, September 13 through September 15, on a special designed stage, using the latest methods in theatrical draping and lighting making "Holiday for Fashions" one of the most elaborate style shows ever presented in the suburban area.

The many visitors who will attend this year's home show are sure to marvel at the homemaking miracles of today, shown by the leading merchants in the suburban area. The latest in television sets, modern heating, newest developments in building materials, home furnishings, appliances, interior decorating, the latest in gifts for that special occasion, along with shop tools for the home work shop, boats, cars, and even the newest in food products will be on display.

Arlington Heights today joined hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii that will sponsor National Kids' Day on Saturday, September 22. Donald R. Hartman, president of the Kiwanis Club announced today.

National Kids' Day is designed to attract more attention to the problems of underprivileged children and to raise funds to meet these needs. It also attempts to focus attention upon the accomplishments of youth. Most of the 3,300 Kiwanis clubs throughout the continent are also planning observances of the day in cooperation with The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Hollywood, Calif.

"Plans for the celebration here of the third annual Kids' Day are almost complete," Hartman added. "Our entire program, which will be announced shortly, is designed to provide material help for underprivileged youth in our community."

UNLIKE SOME special days on the yearly calendar, National Kids' Day is definitely not a commercial vehicle, Hartman pointed out, and the only ones who benefit by it are underprivileged boys and girls. All funds raised through activities on Kids' Day will remain here to be spent under the supervision of the Kiwanians.

Hartman said that Kiwanis International has been active in youth work for thirty-six years and that this is one of the principal activities of the organization. In 1950, for example, Kiwanis clubs provided 275,688 lunches for needy children and on Kids' Day last year, $277,213 was raised for boys and girls work.

"Despite a possible tendency to overlook youth problems because of world conditions and other campaigns, Kiwanians feel that this program must be increased. We believe that adults must be made even more aware of their responsibilities towards children everywhere with increased emphasis on those children who are less fortunate than the average."

"BY UTILIZING the promotional facilities of The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Kiwanians here are able to join with millions of fellow North Americans in observing a day set aside especially for helping youth."

Announcement of what the local club will do for the kids of Arlington Heights will appear in a subsequent issue.

Kiwanians to hold convention in Chicago

The Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights will be represented at the 1951 convention of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District to be held September 16 to 19 at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, Club President Donald R. Hartman announced today.

Reed C. Culp, trustee of Kiwanis International, will be featured on the speakers program during the four-day meeting. He is president of Culp and Sons Sheep Co., Salt Lake City, one of the largest sheep and wool-livestock firms in the west. He is also Utah state chairman of the Advisory Council Civil Defense Committee, and a member of the Board of Governors of Utah Association of United Nations and the Board of Regents of the University of Utah.

In addition to Mr. Culp, who will serve as the official representative of the international community service organization, Donald T. Forsythe, Kiwanis International vice president and a Carthage, Ill., newspaper publisher, will be in attendance.

Delegates from 169 clubs in the district, representing a membership of 10,050 business and professional leaders, will participate in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, and election of officers will highlight the convention program, Hartman said.

The presiding officer will be Chauncey B. Watson, DeKalb, Ill., governor of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District.

Delegates who will represent the Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights at the meeting are L. J. Dahlgren, E. W. Lindemann and D. R. Hartman.

Several of the most popular books recently published have been about the sea. "Kon-Tiki" has been in great demand since it came out about a year ago. "The Caine Mutiny" by Herman Wouk has been a popular marine novel. More lately we have an interesting nonfiction book called "The Sea Around Us" by Rachel L. Carson, and an autobiography "Sails and Whales" by Captain H. A. Chippendale, and a novel "The Cruel Sea," by Nicholas Monsarrat.

"The Sea Around Us" gives the significant facts in the history of the ocean, covering such topics as how the earth acquired its oceans; how life began; the hidden lands; life recently discovered; currents and tides; and mineral resources. It is written with literary skill which makes it fascinating and humanly interesting.

Captain H. A. Chippendale was born at sea; was brought up in St. Helena, where a hundred whalers might be seen in the harbor at one time; and at the age of sixteen signed on as a member of the crew of one of them. He spent many years whaling in the South Atlantic, the Indian Ocean, and the Antarctic—and served with distinction on the seas in three wars. "Sails and Whales" is his personal story of his romantic and adventurous exploits.

"The Cruel Sea" is a novel of contemporary history, dealing with the Battle of the North Atlantic in World War Two. The author knows the sea and its ships from active service—and his story is a tremendous revelation of that cruel and heroic battle.

MY FATHER-IN-LAW fell out of a cherry tree a couple of months ago and fractured a vertebrae. He's 72 years old and should have given up tree climbing, but mom wanted to "put up" a few cherries.

So — I've just returned from two weeks in Pittsburgh helping out. I'll be out a-shopping after catching up with the cobwebs and the washing and next week you again can read what's what in Arlington stores.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That immortal man, vested with all the majesty, purity, and glory of his creator, God, is our real, true and only selfhood, will be explained in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, September 9, is "MAN."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:14) "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Gen. 1: 26, 27).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"God, without the image and likeness of Himself, would be a nonentity, or Mind unexpressed. He would be without a witness or proof of His own nature. Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor separated from its divine Principle . . . Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind" (pp. 303, 336).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That immortal man, vested with all the majesty, purity, and glory of his creator, God, is our real, true and only selfhood, will be explained in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, September 9, is "MAN."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:14) "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: ... So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Gen. 1: 26, 27).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"God, without the image and likeness of Himself, would be a nonentity, or Mind unexpressed. He would be without a witness or proof of His own nature. Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor separated from its divine Principle ... Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind" (pp. 303, 336).

MOVIES, MIKES and TELEVISION TALK

By LYN WILSON—ANS Features

"MARTIN KANE, PRIVATE EYE," television's top mystery program, returns to the screen this month on Thursdays in its regular spot at 10:00 to 10:30 p.m., EDT, over the NBC-TV network. Lloyd Nolan, movie, radio, and screen star, will take the role of Martin Kane, the private eye who solves his cases in cooperation with the police department, instead of in competition with them. "Happy" McMann, the genial tobacco shop proprietor, Sgt. Ross of the police, and other regular characters on the show will again be back.

The radio version of "Martin Kane, Private Eye," is heard on the NBC radio network, Sunday afternoons, 4:30 to 5:00 EDT, with Nolan playing the lead. The radio version offers an entirely different story from the TV version.

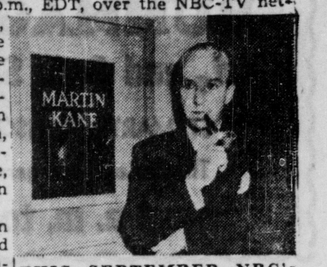
AMONG THE NOTABLES to pinch-hit for vacationing Drew Pearson on his ABC Sunday evening news program is (in late August) U. S. Senator Estes Kefauver, Tennessee's soft-spoken, hard-hitting democrat who, as Chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, jarred the nation by exposing organized crime. Another leading figure — U. S. Senator Kenneth Wherry — is scheduled to appear on a following broadcast. The Nebraskan was G.O.P. "Whip" from 1944 to 1948 and Republican floor leader since 1949. For exact dates of their appearances and other big names scheduled for Pearson's program, keep an eye on your local ABC listings. It's a chance to get first-hand information on current events right from the men who MAKE the news.



THIS SEPTEMBER NBC's award-winning "Cavalcade of America" begins its seventeenth uninterrupted season on the air and producers contemplate casting such star-fare as James Mason, Tyrone Power, Stewart Granger, Teresa Wright and other big-name-stars in lead roles through the season. This sure-fire combination of a consistent line of top radio and movie stars presented in true-to-life historical dramas has lifted Du Pont's Tuesday night "Cavalcade" out of the ordinary run of radio shows and put it high on the list of extra good radio entertainment. Last year "Cavalcade" received top awards from Radio Mirror, Freedom Foundation and American Legion Auxiliary.

PETITE DOROTHY GISH—One of THE Gish sisters who made movie history—returns to the films in Columbia Pictures' Louis deRochemont production "The Whistle at Eaton Falls." Well-deserving of the title "Miss Movies," Miss Gish has been a tireless film-maker since the days of the fabulous D. W. Griffith.

Right Food Makes Bright Scholars

Part of the daily milk quota may reach the youngster in a favorite dessert, as this orange tapioca pudding.

A diller, a dollar, a very bright scholar. Bright indeed, if the scholar gets plenty of the right foods. Milk to drink and dishes made with milk head the list of foods children need for growth and health. A favorite with youngsters and good for them, too, is creamy milk-rich tapioca pudding. They love it especially with fruit as described here.

Orange Tapioca

- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 cups milk
- 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ teaspoon grated orange rind (optional)
- 1 orange, sectioned, free from membrane

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with about ¼ cup of milk in saucepan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, tapioca, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly—this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg-white blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be.) Add vanilla and orange rind. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill. Place in serving dishes. Arrange orange sections on top. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

No Car Drive-Ins

Two drive-in's which prohibit cars are a unique feature of the Army Medical Center in Washington. They include a theater and a bank bar for wheelchair and Stryker-frame patients at Walter Reed Army hospital located on the Center grounds.

Reach For Bleach

In refinishing, it is sometimes desirable or necessary to bleach all or portions of the wood after the old finish has been removed. There are special materials on the market for this purpose as well as for bleaching new wood to secure the popular blonde finishes.

MOVIES, MIKES and TELEVISION TALK

By LYN WILSON—ANS Features

"MARTIN KANE, PRIVATE EYE," television's top mystery program, returns to the screen this month on Thursdays in its regular spot at 10:00 to 10:30 p.m., EDT, over the NBC-TV network. Lloyd Nolan, movie, radio, and screen star, will take the role of Martin Kane, the private eye who solves his cases in cooperation with the police department, instead of in competition with them. "Happy" McMann, the genial tobacco shop proprietor, Sgt. Ross of the police, and other regular characters on the show will again be back.

The radio version of "Martin Kane, Private Eye," is heard on the NBC radio network, Sunday afternoons, 4:30 to 5:00 EDT, with Nolan playing the lead. The radio version offers an entirely different story from the TV version.

AMONG THE NOTABLES to pinch-hit for vacationing Drew Pearson on his ABC Sunday evening news program is (in late August) U. S. Senator Estes Kefauver, Tennessee's soft-spoken, hard-hitting democrat who, as Chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, jarred the nation by exposing organized crime. Another leading figure — U. S. Senator Kenneth Wherry — is scheduled to appear on a following broadcast. The Nebraskan was G.O.P. "Whip" from 1944 to 1948 and Republican floor leader since 1949. For exact dates of their appearances and other big names scheduled for Pearson's program, keep an eye on your local ABC listings. It's a chance to get first-hand information on current events right from the men who MAKE the news.

THIS SEPTEMBER NBC's award-winning "Cavalcade of America" begins its seventeenth uninterrupted season on the air and producers contemplate casting such star-fare as James Mason, Tyrone Power, Stewart Granger, Teresa Wright and other big-name-stars in lead roles through the season. This sure-fire combination of a consistent line of top radio and movie stars presented in true-to-life historical dramas has lifted Du Pont's Tuesday night "Cavalcade" out of the ordinary run of radio shows and put it high on the list of extra good radio entertainment. Last year "Cavalcade" received top awards from Radio Mirror, Freedom Foundation and American Legion Auxiliary.

PETITE DOROTHY GISH—One of THE Gish sisters who made movie history—returns to the films in Columbia Pictures' Louis deRochemont production "The Whistle at Eaton Falls." Well-deserving of the title "Miss Movies," Miss Gish has been a tireless film-maker since the days of the fabulous D. W. Griffith.

Right Food Makes Bright Scholars

Part of the daily milk quota may reach the youngster in a favorite dessert, as this orange tapioca pudding.

A diller, a dollar, a very bright scholar. Bright indeed, if the scholar gets plenty of the right foods. Milk to drink and dishes made with milk head the list of foods children need for growth and health. A favorite with youngsters and good for them, too, is creamy milk-rich tapioca pudding. They love it especially with fruit as described here.

Orange Tapioca

- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 cups milk
- 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ teaspoon grated orange rind (optional)
- 1 orange, sectioned, free from membrane

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with about ¼ cup of milk in saucepan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, tapioca, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly—this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg-white blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be.) Add vanilla and orange rind. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill. Place in serving dishes. Arrange orange sections on top. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

No Car Drive-Ins

Two drive-in's which prohibit cars are a unique feature of the Army Medical Center in Washington. They include a theater and a bank bar for wheelchair and Stryker-frame patients at Walter Reed Army hospital located on the Center grounds.

Reach For Bleach

In refinishing, it is sometimes desirable or necessary to bleach all or portions of the wood after the old finish has been removed. There are special materials on the market for this purpose as well as for bleaching new wood to secure the popular blonde finishes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear beloved daughter and sister, Lorraine, who passed away 7 years ago Sept. 2.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Lose to Cicero

6-run blast chills Redwing title hope

One big bad inning spilled the championship hopes of the Arlington Redwings baseball team Sunday when they suffered a 7-0 lacing from Johnsons of Cicero, though they took Westmont into camp Monday, 6-4. The locals tied for second place.

A ninth inning six-run blast spoiled an otherwise tight ball game for Redwing fans Sunday. Only score previous to that bad frame was the result of two walks and an error. Otherwise it was 1-0 going into the ninth and Redwings were still thinking of title aspirations.

Then came three straight hits, a fielder's choice which netted nothing but an error, followed by another single, a struck batsman and a triple before the side was retired. The damage was done, however, as the Redwings failed to score in their final chance.

MONDAY it was a different story. The Redwings grabbed a 2-0 lead, saw it halved, then stretched it to 5-1 in the fourth inning. Threats in the sixth and seventh by Westmont were to no avail as the locals added another marker in their half of the seventh.

Bright spot of the second game was the pitching of Bob Baker. Recent twirler of Arlington Hts. high school, he allowed Westmont 11 hits, but held the enemy in crucial moments and emerged on top end of the 6-4 tally.

THERE WILL be no playoff in spite of the second place tie with the Redwings putting away what remains of their bats (three were broken the final game) until next season. Prospects for fielding a team again next year are brighter with interest by the local chamber of commerce leading the way, according to manager Elmer Kirchhoff.

There was always a place for a small man in Pennsylvania football. One of them, Rex Wray, quarterback of the 1921 team, scored two touchdowns against Delaware on returns of 85 yards each time.

Warns against special sport awards to boys

Reiteration of rules of the Illinois high school association regarding awards to boys competing in athletics was made this week by Arlington Heights high school athletic director Wally Grace with another school year opening.

"Some violations," stated Grace, "over the state have made the state office and high school principals more watchful than ever in safeguarding the spirit of athletic competition among 800 high schools within Illinois.

"The limit an boy can receive from any group, either his school or any civic organization, is the high school letter. Acceptance of cash or anything having a merchantable value could constitute a violation of the rules of IHSA.

"Gold footballs, basketballs, sweaters and the like are out, and would only jeopardize competitive sports at local high schools," concluded Grace.

Heiden twirls Theater to 3 wins in 4 nights for tourney championship

Twenty-three innings, 24 strikeouts, no earned runs and one no-hitter in four days—that is the record established by Don Heiden of Des Plaines, pitching for the Palatine Theater softball aggregation, newly crowned champions of the Park Ridge tournament.

Heiden went all the way for Don Foster's boys Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights in two seven inning, and one nine inning games. Two unearned runs were scored against him while his mates were winning 2-0, 2-1 and 3-1, but Heiden was never in better form as he walked just nine men in those 23 frames.

High points of the four night record were the 2-1 no-hitter Monday night and the final championship inning Tuesday night, when the show boys won the tournament with Dick striking out all three batters.

SATURDAY NIGHT the Theater nine scored once in the first inning on two walks and a passed ball. They scored again in the second on a hit, two walks and an error. That ended the threat of the KYW squad of Skokie as the locals won, 2-0.

Heiden fanned eleven in this contest.

WKY of Skokie	0-2-0
Palatine Theater	2-4-1

Monday night Harris doubled in the seventh, went to third on a bunt single by Kinsch, and slid home on a fielder's choice that had the opposing catcher chasing "Bucky" around the plate. That proved to be the decisive run after Palatine had scored one in the second on a hit and an error.

Heiden struck out five in this encounter, tripping Park Ridge Lumber, 2-1 in his no-hitter.

Park Ridge Lumber	1-0-1
Palatine Theater	2-5-2

TUESDAY NIGHT the Theater team won the championship by besting Tri-R Signs of Des Plaines, 3-1. Tri-R scored once in the opening frame on a hit and an error.

Palatine scored one in the fourth on a walk and Wickersham's double, and two in the sixth on three singles.

This week end the Theater team moves to the Northeast Illinois tournament at Libertyville, details of which can be found in an adjoining column.

The tournament September 9 will be held at Roselle country club, phone Roselle 5701. Arrange your own foursomes, tee-off time or come out after 1 p.m.

League bracket winners are Bill Hugo, Paul Marxen, Dick Ross, Frank Felker and Clarence Horcher

HOPES HIGH AT PALATINE WITH 16 VETERANS BACK THIS YEAR

Pirates to open against Warren; then Wauconda

If Palatine is finally going to have a big year in football this will have to be the one. The Pirates had a good season last year with four victories and three defeats in conference play, plus a non-league win over Warren, but this year they should hit the jack pot if they are ever going to for 16 lettermen are back and the squad has weight as well as experience.

With a flock of big boys up from the frosh-soph team, Coach Dick Welty has several good boys at every position, a situation Palatine has not experienced in the past.

Weakness may develop in quality of backfield talent. Palatine has very few really outstanding boys on the squad but there are a lot of well above average performers. In spite of the long list of lettermen of whom all but one are seniors, it is very possible that several juniors without previous varsity experience may eventually win starting positions.

IN THE LINE Welty has Jim Hillesheim 190, Don Kincaid 185, and George Gunderson 175, returning tackles, Frank Hummel 175, Jerry Schwingel 165, and Wilmer Dreyer 155 at guards; Walter Grever 195, Dick Abrahamson 175 and Bob Ward 165 at ends; Tom Smith 160 and Ken Mangels 175 at center; and Don Zoellick 155, Bob Dejka 165, Burton Nessett 160, Bob Meyer 150, and Dan Day 165 in the backfield.

Palatine has 67 boys out for football in the drills prior to the start of school. Of this number 22 are seniors, 13 juniors, 13 sophomores, and 19 freshmen. Indications are that Palatine will also have a strong frosh-soph team again this year. Coach Welty has so many good varsity boys from the upper two classes that there is not much chance for a sophomore to make that squad or much chance that the head coach will need to dip down into the frosh-soph team for replacements.

EUGENE MOYLAN, former Dubuque University star fullback, is assisting with both Palatine squads. Last year at Osceola, Iowa, Moylan coached a backfield man who topped the state in yardage gained for the season. Claude Bailey, who has directed the frosh-sophs the past three years, is back on the job to complete a three man grid staff.

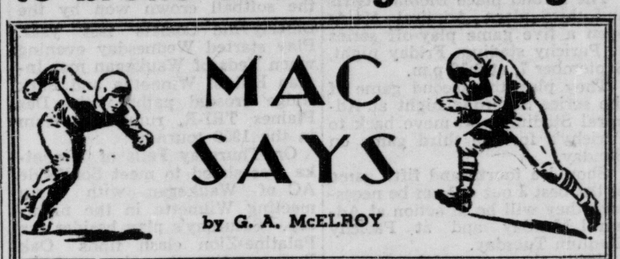
Palatine will open the season Friday afternoon, September 14, against Warren High at Gurnee. The first double header under the lights will be Saturday, September 22, at Palatine Community Park with Wauconda, the opposition.

Palatine is not talking conference championship for they well know what a tough time they will have beating Barrington and Grant out of that much coveted honor. Accurate information indicates that Barrington is leaded with material again, including several outstanding transfers from downstate schools. The Bronchos hold the longest winning streak in the state with 24 straight football victories.

THE MUCH published star, Steve Roake, is gone but many of the work horses who made Barrington an outstanding team are still on hand and better than ever. Grant at Fox Lake lost only to Barrington last year and still has an experienced varsity performer for every position. These two are the teams to beat and Palatine meets them in the final two games of the season.

Right now that is a long way off and Palatine coaches and players know they must win from the other schools before they can stand a chance with the Barrington and Grant pre-season favorites. Palatine has never won a football trophy. If they still fail to finish on top this year it will not be for lack of trying for the squad has shown from the opening day the type of spirit it takes to be a winner.

Lack of weight and depth brings headaches to brows of Arlington Heights grid mentors



by BOB PADDOCK

Football is underway again. Practice started with the hottest weather of the summer but the Labor Day week end brought relief. Most of the Northwest conference schools will start competition next week end after the regulation three weeks of practice required by state association rules. Next week Friday Palatine plays at Warren in the afternoon and Antioch entertains Wilmot, Wis. in a night engagement. On Saturday, Sept. 15, Barrington is host to Libertyville and Wauconda plays Maryville at Des Plaines in afternoon contests while Grant takes on Grayslake at Fox Lake under lights.

Barrington riding crest of the longest winning streak in state

The Northwest conference season officially gets underway Friday, September 21. There will be statewide interest in the results of Barrington's games this year for right now the Bronchos sport the longest winning streak in the state, totaling 24 games. Barrington's last gridiron defeat was suffered September 22, 1943, at Arlington Heights by a 19-0 count. Normal University High has a 22 game streak going and Peoria Manual has one of 21 games.

Last grid loss ancient history at Tolona

Actually the longest streak in the state is that of Unity High of Tolona with 55 in a row but 48 were six man football games and the school was changed during the period by formation of a unit district and consolidation of four communities. After this change the new school started regular 11 man football and won eight straight last year. Coach Howard Barnes has been at Unity two years since graduation from Eastern Illinois at Charleston and so has never coached a loser, directing Tolona to 15 straight wins.

Looks like Barrington, Palatine and Grant in NW football

We have no extensive information about the Northwest teams but we do know pretty well what each graduated last spring and on that basis it looks like Barrington, Palatine and Grant to finish in that order this season. The Bronchos at Barrington lost a flock of players including the highly publicized Steve Roake who made all state end; Dan Osinski, outstanding quarterback and forward pass specialist; and Ray Hartwig, two time all conference tackle.

In spite of the loss of six of their best regulars and several good substitutes it looks like the Bronchos again all the way. Coach Tom Frederick has 17 lettermen of whom five were regulars and very good ones at that. Coming up from the frosh-sophs are some of the best boys ever to come to Barrington High and it is our guess that quite a number of them will see regular action on another Barrington winner.

Palatine material rivals Barrington this year

Palatine had a 4-3 record last year and should improve that a bit with a string of 16 lettermen, including eight regulars. In fact Palatine might grab everything if they improve in fundamentals sufficiently during the season for they have a made to order schedule with Barrington the final opponent. It looks like the two schools have comparable material this year.

Barrington boys in late years have taken sports more seriously than have the boys in Palatine. This has been in evidence in stricter training, harder work in practice, and more competitive spirit. It is this which gives the Bronchos the edge in the coming grid race.

Murphy Insurance	63½
Urick Landscape Service	62
L-Nor Cleaners	59½
Bill Erickson Flashes	59
Wulbecker Furniture Serv.	57½
Team Seven (Unsponsored)	36½

With first and second place already settled, all of the interest was centered on the dog-fight battle for third spot as the league finished its schedule August 29. Murphy Insurance turned on the steam and won third place as they lowered the boom on the Erickson Flashes to the tune of 7½ to 1½.

This defeat dropped the Flashes from third clear down to sixth place. John Foerster and Dave Shaughness led the overall fine Murphy attack. In the feature match of the evening, ex-president Frank Cowan came from behind to defeat the 1951 president, Bill Lynch, 1 up.

The defending champions, Urick Landscape Service finished in fourth place as they scored a 5 to 4 victory over the new champions, Prospect Heights Pharmacy. Sponsor Joe Urick, Captain Harry Klein and Chuck Weisenbach were the main cogs for Urick's, while Francis Weber and Harvey Schaefer led the losers.

Mike Graft, Lou Stefanik and Pete Bodor played a fine brand of golf in Stefanik Dairy and Food's 6 to 3 win over Wulbecker Furniture Service. Henry Tholen played his best game of the season to win low individual net honors for the losers.

Last place Team 7 ended their season by upsetting L-Nor Cleaners 5½ to 3½. Lou Neuendorf was the individual star as he won both low gross and low net points for the winners.

by BOB PADDOCK

Just where the "big boys" are hiding is the problem for Arlington football coaches to solve this year as advanced indications of the Heights line for the '51 season show 170 being almost top weight in the forward wall.

It seems several of the heavier boys, some showing promise last season, are bypassing the grid sport this year for one reason or another, and Arlington's first football slate in West Suburban circles will suffer as a result.

"One boy, topping 200 pounds," lamented head coach "Bus" Ormsbee, "has given up playing in favor of carrying the tuba. We were relying on him to put some weight into the line, not into the stands for the local Cardinals."

LACK OF RESERVE strength is the big problem for Arlington mentors. The guards and center spot are OK but the ends and tackles are causing plenty of gray hair. "Too light" is the big complaint.

At tackle, for instance, three boys are rated at 170, 168 and 160 pounds.

Lettermen in the line include Jim Intravartolo at center, Norbert Leckband at guard, and Joe Rezek at tackle (guard last season).

Backfield veterans are John Eakins at quarter and Roger Ragland at half.

THE LOGICAL answer to Ormsbee's problem is speed. He's been shifting boys to new positions to attempt to make up for lack of weight with speed. Just what effect that will have on West Suburban opponents remains to be seen.

Season tickets were placed on sale this week at Millay's, the downtown newsstand in Arlington Heights, and the high school office. Reserved seats for the five home games, four of them under the lights, cost $5.00.

Single game prices are $1.10 for reserved seat, 50c general admission for adults, and 30c for students.

Opening game for the Cardinals is just a week away, September 14, with Downers Grove coming to town for the first conference test. The following week Heights plays host to Marmion, with Maine, LaGrange and Glenbard also on the local field.

Bowling scores to be published again

Through the cooperation of local bowling alley proprietors, keglers' scores will again be published this year. League secretaries have only to provide pertinent information on time to insure publication.

Presentation of scores will include league standings, individual names and series, plus team scores.

Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect scores will be picked up at the alleys Monday and Tuesday afternoons. At Palatine, pickups will be made at both establishments Tuesday nights.

Warns against special sport awards to boys

Reiteration of rules of the Illinois high school association regarding awards to boys competing in athletics was made this week by Arlington Heights high school athletic director Wally Grace with another school year opening.

"Some violations," stated Grace, "over the state have made the state office and high school principals more watchful than ever in safeguarding the spirit of athletic competition among 800 high schools within Illinois.

"The limit an boy can receive from any group, either his school or any civic organization, is the high school letter. Acceptance of cash or anything having a merchantable value could constitute a violation of the rules of IHSA.

"Gold footballs, basketballs, sweaters and the like are out, and would only jeopardize competitive sports at local high schools," concluded Grace.

Lose to Cicero

6-run blast chills Redwing title hope

One big bad inning spilled the championship hopes of the Arlington Redwings baseball team Sunday when they suffered a 7-0 lacing from Johnsons of Cicero, though they took Westmont into camp Monday, 6-4. The locals tied for second place.

A ninth inning six-run blast spoiled an otherwise tight ball game for Redwing fans Sunday. Only score previous to that bad frame was the result of two walks and an error. Otherwise it was 1-0 going into the ninth and Redwings were still thinking of title aspirations.

Then came three straight hits, a fielder's choice which netted nothing but an error, followed by another single, a struck batsman and a triple before the side was retired. The damage was done, however, as the Redwings failed to score in their final chance.

MONDAY it was a different story. The Redwings grabbed a 2-0 lead, saw it halved, then stretched it to 5-1 in the fourth inning. Threats in the sixth and seventh by Westmont were to no avail as the locals added another marker in their half of the seventh.

Bright spot of the second game was the pitching of Bob Baker Recent twirler of Arlington Hts. high school, he allowed Westmont 11 hits, but held the enemy in crucial moments and emerged on top end of the 6-4 tally.

THERE WILL be no playoff in spite of the second place tie with the Redwings putting away what remains of their bats (three were broken the final game) until next season. Prospects for fielding a team again next year are brighter with interest by the local chamber of commerce leading the way, according to manager Elmer Kirchhoff.

There was always a place for a small man in Pennsylvania football. One of them, Rex Wray, quarterback of the 1921 team, scored two touchdowns against Delaware on returns of 85 yards each time.

Heiden twirls Theater to 3 wins in 4 nights for tourney championship

Twenty-three innings, 24 strikeouts, no earned runs and one no-hitter in four days —that is the record established by Don Heiden of Des Plaines, pitching for the Palatine Theater softball aggregation, newly crowned champions of the Park Ridge tournament.

Heiden went all the way for Don Foster's boys Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights in two seven inning, and one nine inning games. Two unearned runs were scored against him while his mates were winning 2-0, 2-1 and 3-1, but Heiden was never in better form as he walked just nine men in those 23 frames.

High points of the four night record were the 2-1 no-hitter Monday night and the final championship inning Tuesday night, when the show boys won the tournament with Dick striking out all three batters.

SATURDAY NIGHT the Theater nine scored once in the first inning on two walks and a passed ball. They scored again in the second on a hit, two walks and an error. That ended the threat of the KYW squad of Skokie as the locals won, 2-0.

Heiden fanned eleven in this contest.

WKY of Skokie	0-2-0
Palatine Theater	2-4-1

Monday night Harris doubled in the seventh, went to third on a bunt single by Kinsch, and slid home on a fielder's choice that had the opposing catcher chasing "Bucky" around the plate. That proved to be the decisive run after Palatine had scored one in the second on a hit and an error.

Heiden struck out five in this encounter, tripping Park Ridge Lumber, 2-1 in his no-hitter.

Park Ridge Lumber	1-0-1
Palatine Theater	2-5-2

TUESDAY NIGHT the Theater team won the championship by besting Tri-R Signs of Des Plaines, 3-1. Tri-R scored once in the opening frame on a hit and an error.

Palatine scored one in the fourth on a walk and Wickersham's double, and two in the sixth on three singles.

This week end the Theater team moves to the Northeast Illinois tournament at Libertyville, details of which can be found in an adjoining column.

Winning four out of five matches on the final night of play against Jahn's Service Station, Schiller's breezed in to claim the Arlington golf league title. The winning team includes Tony Felker, Wade Olson, Harry Siebold, Frank Felker and Clarence Horcher. The second place team, Lingren's Men's Wear, won handily over Black's Memorial Home. Arlington National Bank exploded into third place, beating Chicago Transformer by taking all 12 points.

The tournament September 9 will be held at Roselle country club, phone Roselle 5701. Arrange your own foursomes, tee-off time or come out after 1 p.m.

League bracket winners are Bill Hugo, Paul Marxen, Dick Ross, Frank Felker and Clarence Horcher

John Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Peters, 403 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights, is one of 68 players asked by Coach Dick Clausen to report for football practice September 10 at Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Peters, who graduated in June from Arlington Heights high school, is eligible to play as a freshman under a new ruling of the Midwest conference. The season opens September 21 with a game at Central college, Pella, Ia.

Team Seven (Unsponsored)	36½

With first and second place already settled, all of the interest was centered on the dog-fight battle for third spot as the league finished its schedule August 29. Murphy Insurance turned on the steam and won third place as they lowered the boom on the Erickson Flashes to the tune of 7½ to 1½.

This defeat dropped the Flashes from third clear down to sixth place. John Foerster and Dave Shaughness led the overall fine Murphy attack. In the feature match of the evening, ex-president Frank Cowan came from behind to defeat the 1951 president, Bill Lynch, 1 up.

The defending champions, Urick Landscape Service finished in fourth place as they scored a 5 to 4 victory over the new champions, Prospect Heights Pharmacy. Sponsor Joe Urick, Captain Harry Klein and Chuck Weisenbach were the main cogs for Urick's, while Francis Weber and Harvey Schaefer led the losers.

Mike Graft, Lou Stefanik and Pete Bodor played a fine brand of golf in Stefanik Dairy and Food's 6 to 3 win over Wulbecker Furniture Service. Henry Tholen played his best game of the season to win low individual net honors for the losers.

Last place Team 7 ended their season by upsetting L-Nor Cleaners 5½ to 3½. Lou Neuendorf was the individual star as he won both low gross and low net points for the winners.

Veteran linebackers small of stature but big asset to Illini gridders in '51

Small of stature but a big asset to the 1951 University of Illinois football team is a veteran corps of linebackers who reported to Coach Ray Eliot when fall drills began Sept. 5.

The corps includes Joe Cole, Park Ridge (Maine), Chuck Boerio, Kincaid, and Elie Popa, Canton, Ohio, all seniors, and Joe Hall, Carbondale, a junior.

Cole, who stands 6-2 and weighs 201, is only member of the group whose physical makeup resembles one's idea of a Big Ten defensive specialist. Remaining members of the group are small but mighty when it comes to bringing down opposing ball carriers.

BOTH COLE and Boerio will be playing their third seasons for the Illini. Strangely these two players spent sophomore years in J-V ball but began to come strongly at the end of the 1949 campaign.

In 1950 they moved in as regulars, Boerio taking the left linebacking spot as center and Cole the right as defensive fullback. Boerio, who is 5-11 and weighs 191, ranked as the Big Ten's best in his department in 1950 and was picked on virtually all midwest teams.

Popa missed his sophomore year after suffering a broken leg in practice but came strongly last season both as an offensive fullback and on defense. His recovery of three fumbles in the Ohio State game made possible Illinois' greatest triumph of 1950. Elie stands only 5-10, weighs 183 pounds.

SMALLEST but one of the roughest of Big Ten linebackers is last-named member of the foursome, Joe Hall, who stands just 5-10 and has never weighed more than 170 pounds. He is a vicious tackler and a smart defensive player. Twice during last year's Ohio State game he crashed into ball carriers with such force that they fumbled. Against University of Washington, Hall intercepted a pass and returned it 15 yards to set up the winning touchdown.

On offense, the first-string job of handling the ball and blocking for down-the-middle plays probably will fall to Dan Sabino, rangy junior from Chicago (South Shore). Sabino was tested under fire in mid-season last year when Capt. Bill Vohaska was sidelined with a broken hand and showed plenty of capability.

Dan is 21 years old, 6 feet 2 inches, and 189 pounds. His first relief will probably come from Paul Luhrsen, 205-pound sophomore from Elmhurst (York). Luhrsen has excellent size and speed but is short on experience.

The same holds true for other yearlings who will be candidates at offensive center. They include Herb Borman, Downers Grove, a steady performer on longer passes from center in kicking situations.

Bloomer Girls and Music Maids to play for second in '3 of 5'

The second place Bloomer Girls and third place Admiral Maids open a five game play-off series at Parichy stadium Friday night, September 7, at 8:30 p.m.

They play the second game of the series Saturday night at Admiral Stadium and move back to Parichy's for the third game on Sunday.

Should a fourth and fifth game of the best 3 out of 5 set be necessary they will be in action at Admiral Monday and at Parichy Stadium Tuesday.

While these two clubs are in action the first place Queens will meet either the Bluebirds or Checashers, fourth place winners, in a 3 out of 5 game set.

The winners of the two above series will meet in a 4 out of 7 game championship set beginning September 12.

Grant has best chance to stop Barrington

Last year Grant lost only one game and that was to Barrington by one touchdown. The nucleus for another strong team still remains and Grant students and townspeople are more interested in football than in any other sport. Grant cannot be counted out and will probably be the team most likely to upset the Bronchos.

Steben leaves Wauconda for job at Bloom

Coach Ralph Steben of Wauconda changed jobs this summer by signing to direct cross country and track at Bloom township high at Chicago Heights. Steben had Wauconda coming up fast in Northwest conference sports. His football team was ready to start winning some league games. We hope his successor may carry on where he left off and make Wauconda a factor in the coming league season.

Palatine Theater opens tourney at Libertyville

Opening test for the Palatine Theater softball team in the fifth annual Northeastern Illinois softball tournament at Libertyville is Saturday evening when the Palatine team meets Zion at 7:45 p.m.

Thirteen teams are vieing for the softball crown won by the Libertyville Comets last year. Play started Wednesday evening when Teds of Waukegan met Indian Hill of Winnetka and Park Ridge crossed paths with Des Plaines TRI-R, runner-up team in the 1950 tourney.

On Thursday Fells of Winnetka was slated to meet Southside AC of Waukegan with Elgin meeting Wilmette in the nightcap. Saturday's play besides the Palatine-Zion clash finds Oak Park meeting the winner of the Des Plaines-Park Ridge tussel.

LIBERTYVILLE bows into tourney action on Sunday meeting the winner of the Elgin-Wilmette game at 7:15 p. m. An added attraction on this evening will be an exhibition between the Rockolas and Checashers, girl baseball teams of the National Girl's baseball league.

Winners of the Winnetka-Southside AC and Palatine-Zion game will meet at 7:45 p. m. next Monday with Skokie clashing with the winner of the Indian Hill-Waukegan game at 8:45 p. m.

Umpires from the Umpires Protective Association of Chicago will officiate all games and no protests will be allowed.

LAKE COUNTY teams have completely dominated previous championships with only two non-Lake County teams ever reaching the finals — Arlington Heights as runnerup in 1948 and last year when Des Plaines took runnerup honors. However, this year Cook County has twice as many entries as Lake County and will be shooting for their first title.

Pairings:

Wed., Sept. 5, 7:45 p. m., Teds of Waukegan vs. Indian Hill of Winnetka; 8:45 p. m., Park Ridge vs. Des Plaines TRI-R Signs.

Whittons and Hooks to play for league title

K. R. Whitton won first place in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect twilight golf league and will meet Hook's Nursery in a play off Sunday, September 9, at 1:00 p. m. at the Mt. Prospect country club. The emerging victors of this match will meet the champions of the Arlington Heights twilight golf league in their annual inter-city rivalry Sunday, September 16, 1:00 p. m.

Second place in the Tuesday division was won by Kruse's Schlitz who by virtue of their fierce stretch drive managed to nose out the Mt. Prospect Lions club by a half point for runnerup honors.

One birdie was scored Tuesday by Uncle Walt Burfischer who accomplished the trick on No. 15 with a beautifully engineered and executed 30 foot putt.

THE FIRST place winner Wednesday night was Hook's Nursery team which led that division of the league for almost the entire season.

V&G Printers took second place and Mt. Prospect State Bank team wound up in third spot.

Birdies Wednesday night were as follows: Fred Tice on the 7th and R. Virgil on the 1st.

Trophies will be awarded at the annual league banquet to be held at Mt. Prospect country club Tuesday, September 25 at 7:30 p. m. A delicious sirloin of beef dinner is on the menu for the evening. Something fishy?

Experts say finfolk on night shift on strike for bigger and better worms

Most people take it for granted that fish are creatures of perpetual motion and go on swimming day and night. On the contrary, it appears that each kind has a rather definite daily routine with certain hours for quiet rest or sleep, and other hours for moving about in search for food. As a rule, fish active in daylight rest at night as if they were asleep. Sometimes they lean against rocks, with their fins folded, or creep into holes and among vegetation.

Fish scientists have learned that almost every kind of fish makes regular daily trips between shallow and deep water. Lampreys, suckers, smelt, redhorses, wall-eyed pike and a few other kinds are known to make their spawning migrations and lay their eggs at night.

THE DIFFERENT kinds in any body of water are divided rather clearly into a day shift and a night shift, with still others which are most active at dawn and dusk. As may be expected, fish active in clear well-lighted water are sight feeders and have large well-developed eyes; while those active at night, or in deep or muddy water where the light is dim, depend mostly on their keen senses of touch and taste.

The best time to fish for channel catfish, bullheads, or eels is at night. At dusk these fish come out of their daytime hiding places in the muddy bottoms of lakes and streams, or under rocks and sunken logs, to scour the shallows and other rich feeding grounds until sunrise. At night, the eel is known to crawl out on land in swamps and dewy meadows to search for frogs and crayfish.

ALL SUCH fish have extremely delicate senses of touch and taste in cells scattered all over the body. In addition, the catfish, including the bullheads, have a pair of "whiskers" or barbels, often several inches long, extending outward from the corners of the mouth; two smaller pairs under the chin that point downward; and another smaller pair on the nose that point upward. If one of these barbels touches anything edible, as they skim over the bottom, the fish whirls like a flash and grabs the morsel as easily as if it were in plain sight.

Many anglers prefer to fish at night with artificial baits for such game fish as black bass, white bass, and wall-eyed pike. This is possible because these fish, like most other kinds, are equipped with a special sense that can detect very slight movements in water. It is supposed that this sense is centered mostly in the "lateral line"—a row of pores running from head to tail along each side of the body. It is so sensitive that a black bass can catch a small minnow in a large tank in total darkness, and a blinded pike can grab the tip of a pencil moved slowly through the water.

THE HABIT some fishes have, of congregating in schools, depends primarily on eyesight. When evening comes, schools of young bullheads and herrings break up and settle to the bottom where they rest until morning. During the day, in clear water, almost all fish are able to change their color to correspond with the background. However, at night, they all become pale—very much as do fish that live in caves or muddy water.

In muddy streams and lakes, fish are forced to live in almost continual night because the suspended silt cuts off the sunlight. In the Mississippi, for instance, practically every kind of fish is specially adapted for living in darkness. For example, the catfish, sturgeons, paddlefish, dogfish, carp and many of the minnows have barbels. The sheepshead has long "feelers" on the tips of its pelvic fins, and other fish habitually test the bottom by flicking it with their fins. Sight-feeding fish, in streams and lakes suddenly muddied by rains, frequently go hungry and lose weight until the water again becomes clear.

How can they tell if a fish is sleeping, when he never shuts an eye?

Rookie crop may carry the ball for Bears Sunday

The Chicago Bears will present their finest rookie crop in years Sunday afternoon in Soldier Field when they meet the world champion Cleveland Browns in the sixth annual armed forces game. Kickoff time is set for 1:30 p. m.

Sunday's engagement will mark the first appearance of Bob Williams, brilliant Notre Dame all American quarterback, in Bear uniform here. The game also will introduce Whizzer White, sensational halfback from Arizona State College and leading collegiate ground gainer of 1950. Other standout Bear rookies scheduled to appear against the Browns are John Dottley, fullback from Ole Miss.; Gene Schroeder, brilliant end from University of Virginia; Brad Rowland, Little All American from McMurry; Les Cowan, giant tackle from the same school, and Johnny Miller, former Northwestern University flash.

Billy Stone, highly regarded halfback acquired from the Baltimore Colts, also will make his Chicago debut as a Bear.

HALAS is expected to give his rookie backfield of Williams, White, Rowland and Dottley, a fling at the Browns. This quartet starred in the San Francisco game and is expected to become a great unit of the future.

Although all eyes will be on the new men, Bear fans also will have an opportunity Sunday to give such standout "sophomores" as Chuck Hunsinger, Steve Romanik, Harper Davis, Bill Wightkin, Fred Morrison, Al Campana, John O'Quinn, and Wayne Hansen, the old once over for the first time this year. Hunsinger has been sparkling in recent drills and will see considerable action against the undefeated Browns.

Victorious by one-sided scores over the College All Stars and the New York Yanks, the mighty Browns will be out to hand the Bears their first loss in the military series. Beginning with the first game against the New York Giants in 1946 (which was a prevue of the championship playoff game that season) the Bears never have been beaten in an Armed Forces game.

Seek sponsors Little League boys baseball

A meeting held at the home of Al Mundt, 670 Berkley ave., Elmhurst, the evening of August 24, was attended by a group of men from Elmhurst, Bensenville and Villa Park to discuss Little League in this area.

Little League is a national organization which provides organized baseball for boys between the ages of 9 through 12 years. Libertyville Comets second in softball tourney at St. Charles

The Libertyville Comets, recent winner of the Illinois Softball league championship, added another laurel to its list during the past week when the team took second place in the 11th annual Northern Illinois softball championship tournament at St. Charles.

Champion of the tournament was the Maywood Pilots who scored a 2-1 decision over the Comets. Warren Boyes was the pitching hero for the Libertyville team and allowed only three runs in five tournament games for the standout pitching performance of the tourney.

Libertyville defeated Yorkville, 8-0, Wasco, 3-1, Aurora, 2-0, and Dundee, 1-0, before bowing to the Maywood team which finished as runnerup to the Racine Metal Parts in the Illinois Wisconsin Fastball league. Marengo defeated Dundee, 3-1 for third place in the 24-team tourney.

The tournament award was the ninth that Libertyville has won in the past five seasons. The current record of the team is 24 wins and five defeats of which three losses have been by one run each and a pair by two scores.

Veteran linebackers small of stature but big asset to Illini gridders in '51

Small of stature but a big asset to the 1951 University of Illinois football team is a veteran corps of linebackers who reported to Coach Ray Eliot when fall drills began Sept. 5.

The corps includes Joe Cole, Park Ridge (Maine), Chuck Boerio, Kincaid, and Elie Popa, Canton, Ohio, all seniors, and Joe Hall, Carbondale, a junior.

Cole, who stands 6-2 and weighs 201, is only member of the group whose physical makeup resembles one's idea of a Big Ten defensive specialist. Remaining members of the group are small but mighty when it comes to bringing down opposing ball carriers.

BOTH COLE and Boerio will be playing their third seasons for the Illini. Strangely these two players spent sophomore years in J-V ball but began to come strongly at the end of the 1949 campaign.

In 1950 they moved in as regulars, Boerio taking the left linebacking spot as center and Cole the right as defensive fullback. Boerio, who is 5-11 and weighs 191, ranked as the Big Ten's best in his department in 1950 and was picked on virtually all midwest teams.

Popa missed his sophomore year after suffering a broken leg in practice but came strongly last season both as an offensive fullback and on defense. His recovery of three fumbles in the Ohio State game made possible Illinois' greatest triumph of 1950. Elie stands only 5-10, weighs 183 pounds.

SMALLEST but one of the roughest of Big Ten linebackers is last-named member of the foursome, Joe Hall, who stands just 5-10 and has never weighed more than 170 pounds. He is a vicious tackler and a smart defensive player. Twice during last year's Ohio State game he crashed into ball carriers with such force that they fumbled. Against University of Washington, Hall intercepted a pass and returned it 15 yards to set up the winning touchdown.

On offense, the first-string job of handling the ball and blocking for down-the-middle plays probably will fall to Dan Sabino, rangy junior from Chicago (South Shore). Sabino was tested under fire in mid-season last year when Capt. Bill Vohaska was sidelined with a broken hand and showed plenty of capability.

Dan is 21 years old, 6 feet 2 inches, and 189 pounds. His first relief will probably come from Paul Luhrsen, 205-pound sophomore from Elmhurst (York). Luhrsen has excellent size and speed but is short on experience.

The same holds true for other yearlings who will be candidates at offensive center. They include Herb Borman, Downers Grove, a steady performer on longer passes from center in kicking situations.

Bloomer Girls and Music Maids to play for second in '3 of 5'

The second place Bloomer Girls and third place Admiral Maids open a five game play-off series at Parichy stadium Friday night, September 7, at 8:30 p.m.

They play the second game of the series Saturday night at Admiral Stadium and move back to Parichy's for the third game on Sunday.

Should a fourth and fifth game of the best 3 out of 5 set be necessary they will be in action at Admiral Monday and at Parichy Stadium Tuesday.

While these two clubs are in action the first place Queens will meet either the Bluebirds or Checashers, fourth place winners, in a 3 out of 5 game set.

The winners of the two above series will meet in a 4 out of 7 game championship set beginning September 12.

Grant has best chance to stop Barrington

Last year Grant lost only one game and that was to Barrington by one touchdown. The nucleus for another strong team still remains and Grant students and townspeople are more interested in football than in any other sport. Grant cannot be counted out and will probably be the team most likely to upset the Bronchos.

Steben leaves Wauconda for job at Bloom

Coach Ralph Steben of Wauconda changed jobs this summer by signing to direct cross country and track at Bloom township high at Chicago Heights. Steben had Wauconda coming up fast in Northwest conference sports. His football team was ready to start winning some league games. We hope his successor may carry on where he left off and make Wauconda a factor in the coming league season.

Palatine Theater opens tourney at Libertyville

Opening test for the Palatine Theater softball team in the fifth annual Northeastern Illinois softball tournament at Libertyville is Saturday evening when the Palatine team meets Zion at 7:45 p.m.

Thirteen teams are vieing for the softball crown won by the Libertyville Comets last year. Play started Wednesday evening when Teds of Waukegan met Indian Hill of Winnetka and Park Ridge crossed paths with Des Plaines TRI-R, runner-up team in the 1950 tourney.

On Thursday Fells of Winnetka was slated to meet Southside AC of Waukegan with Elgin meeting Wilmette in the nightcap. Saturday's play besides the Palatine-Zion clash finds Oak Park meeting the winner of the Des Plaines-Park Ridge tussel.

LIBERTYVILLE bows into tourney action on Sunday meeting the winner of the Elgin-Wilmette game at 7:15 p. m. An added attraction on this evening will be an exhibition between the Rockolas and Checashers, girl baseball teams of the National Girl's baseball league.

Winners of the Winnetka-Southside AC and Palatine-Zion game will meet at 7:45 p. m. next Monday with Skokie clashing with the winner of the Indian Hill-Waukegan game at 8:45 p. m.

Umpires from the Umpires Protective Association of Chicago will officiate all games and no protests will be allowed.

LAKE COUNTY teams have completely dominated previous championships with only two non-Lake County teams ever reaching the finals — Arlington Heights as runnerup in 1948 and last year when Des Plaines took runnerup honors. However, this year Cook County has twice as many entries as Lake County and will be shooting for their first title.

Something fishy?

Experts say finfolk on night shift on strike for bigger and better worms

Most people take it for granted that fish are creatures of perpetual motion and go on swimming day and night. On the contrary, it appears that each kind has a rather definite daily routine with certain hours for quiet rest or sleep, and other hours for moving about in search for food. As a rule, fish active in daylight rest at night as if they were asleep. Sometimes they lean against rocks, with their fins folded, or creep into holes and among vegetation.

Fish scientists have learned that almost every kind of fish makes regular daily trips between shallow and deep water. Lampreys, suckers, smelt, redhorses, wall-eyed pike and a few other kinds are known to make their spawning migrations and lay their eggs at night.

THE DIFFERENT kinds in any body of water are divided rather clearly into a day shift and a night shift, with still others which are most active at dawn and dusk. As may be expected, fish active in clear well-lighted water are sight feeders and have large well-developed eyes; while those active at night, or in deep or muddy water where the light is dim, depend mostly on their keen senses of touch and taste.

The best time to fish for channel catfish, bullheads, or eels is at night. At dusk these fish come out of their daytime hiding places in the muddy bottoms of lakes and streams, or under rocks and sunken logs, to scour the shallows and other rich feeding grounds until sunrise. At night, the eel is known to crawl out on land in swamps and dewy meadows to search for frogs and crayfish.

ALL SUCH fish have extremely delicate senses of touch and taste in cells scattered all over the body. In addition, the catfish, including the bullheads, have a pair of "whiskers" or barbels, often several inches long, extending outward from the corners of the mouth; two smaller pairs under the chin that point downward; and another smaller pair on the nose that point upward. If one of these barbels touches anything edible, as they skim over the bottom, the fish whirls like a flash and grabs the morsel as easily as if it were in plain sight.

Many anglers prefer to fish at night with artificial baits for such game fish as black bass, white bass, and wall-eyed pike. This is possible because these fish, like most other kinds, are equipped with a special sense that can detect very slight movements in water. It is supposed that this sense is centered mostly in the "lateral line"—a row of pores running from head to tail along each side of the body. It is so sensitive that a black bass can catch a small minnow in a large tank in total darkness, and a blinded pike can grab the tip of a pencil moved slowly through the water.

THE HABIT some fishes have, of congregating in schools, depends primarily on eyesight. When evening comes, schools of young bullheads and herrings break up and settle to the bottom where they rest until morning. During the day, in clear water, almost all fish are able to change their color to correspond with the background. However, at night, they all become pale—very much as do fish that live in caves or muddy water.

In muddy streams and lakes, fish are forced to live in almost continual night because the suspended silt cuts off the sunlight. In the Mississippi, for instance, practically every kind of fish is specially adapted for living in darkness. For example, the catfish, sturgeons, paddlefish, dogfish, carp and many of the minnows have barbels. The sheepshead has long "feelers" on the tips of its pelvic fins, and other fish habitually test the bottom by flicking it with their fins. Sight-feeding fish, in streams and lakes suddenly muddied by rains, frequently go hungry and lose weight until the water again becomes clear.

How can they tell if a fish is sleeping, when he never shuts an eye?

Rookie crop may carry the ball for Bears Sunday

The Chicago Bears will present their finest rookie crop in years Sunday afternoon in Soldier Field when they meet the world champion Cleveland Browns in the sixth annual armed forces game. Kickoff time is set for 1:30 p. m.

Sunday's engagement will mark the first appearance of Bob Williams, brilliant Notre Dame all American quarterback, in Bear uniform here. The game also will introduce Whizzer White, sensational halfback from Arizona State College and leading collegiate ground gainer of 1950. Other standout Bear rookies scheduled to appear against the Browns are John Dottley, fullback from Ole Miss.; Gene Schroeder, brilliant end from University of Virginia; Brad Rowland, Little All American from McMurry; Les Cowan, giant tackle from the same school, and Johnny Miller, former Northwestern University flash.

Billy Stone, highly regarded halfback acquired from the Baltimore Colts, also will make his Chicago debut as a Bear.

HALAS is expected to give his rookie backfield of Williams, White, Rowland and Dottley, a fling at the Browns. This quartet starred in the San Francisco game and is expected to become a great unit of the future.

Although all eyes will be on the new men, Bear fans also will have an opportunity Sunday to give such standout "sophomores" as Chuck Hunsinger, Steve Romanik, Harper Davis, Bill Wightkin, Fred Morrison, Al Campana, John O'Quinn, and Wayne Hansen, the old once over for the first time this year. Hunsinger has been sparkling in recent drills and will see considerable action against the undefeated Browns.

Victorious by one-sided scores over the College All Stars and the New York Yanks, the mighty Browns will be out to hand the Bears their first loss in the military series. Beginning with the first game against the New York Giants in 1946 (which was a prevue of the championship playoff game that season) the Bears never have been beaten in an Armed Forces game.

Livestock men know weather and trends but long ago gave up predicting government edicts

There is a potential beef shortage developing. So far there has been a general shift in live stock production to a more conservative basis. There is considerable adjustment taking place in long time beef production programs as well as current feeding and marketing policies.

"CATTLE ARE being marketed earlier and at lighter weights which means sacrifice of quality for lack of finish. Part of this early marketing was the result of anticipated rollbacks but existing price ceilings have generally discouraged finishing cattle in feedlots. There has been an unusual delay in marketing of grass fat cattle from pasture areas. These cattle have lacked maturity but existing price controls made it advisable to obtain maximum weight gains and finish. This will generally shift the beef supply from a high quality to a low grade basis during the early fall—followed by an extreme beef shortage during the winter.

"The late crop of long-fed cattle has shifted to a growing basis and replacements have been greatly curtailed. This would indicate a marked shortage of fed cattle during the late fall and winter and a sharp curtailment in the tonnage of the better grades of beef. Much of the delayed marketing and seasonal increase in the supply of pasture and range cattle is expected to be offset by a strong slaughter demand and greatly improved outlets for stockers and feeders.

"THE HOG market is in a vulnerable situation now that it is past its seasonally strongest position. Marketings have been relatively large for the time of year and storage returns on pork have been rather unsatisfactory. Some slight improvement resulted from slightly higher pork ceilings but the stage has been set for a very unsatisfactory fall market. While spring pig crop reports indicate increased numbers, there has been a signifi-fant shift to earlier marketing.

"This has involved earlier farrowing in the eastern Corn Belt and a shift to the quicker-maturing type of hog in the western corn belt. Also, there has been a tendency to market all hogs at lighter weights which is being reflected in an earlier topping out and in a general shift in the seasonal pork supply.

"HOG PRICES are bound to be considerably below parity and in all probability we can expect a very unfavorable feeding ratio. This would result in more liquidation and produce a market curtailment in the spring pig crop. Present price ceilings, which cannot legally be imposed with hogs below parity, offer no advantage to maintain production so it seems quite probable that a cyclical down-trend in hog production will be forced next year.

"Lamb market conditions have reflected a large summer supply and substantially lower pelt values. Much of the spring lamb crop was delayed and production was increased in the early producing areas. Thus the summer supply has been large as compared with what can be expected for the remainder of the year. There was no noticeable increase in the late range crop, thus the curtailment in fall marketings is expected to be quite significant and followed by another abnormally short fed crop.

"The dressed lamb market has been well supported by a special effort on the part of the trade to move the product through the most favorable trade channels. That involves allocation as well as distribution on a cut basis. If such trade policies continue, along with equally favorable demand conditions, plus a comeback in pelt values, the lamb production outlook seems very favorable for another season."

Don't crowd pullets or you lose half profits

Crowding pullets in brooder or laying house cuts profits in half. Each hen needs at least 3 square feet of floor space in the laying house to do her best.

W. B. Whitfield, writing for Capper's Farmer, says that "when birds have plenty of space they are healthier, lay more eggs and make more money for their owners. Crowding in summer shelters results in high percentage of cull pullets. Too many birds for the space may result in false molt and delayed laying."

Crowded pullets will be slow in getting into production, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. When they start laying at 7 or 8 months 40 to 50 per cent will be as heavy as they can lay at peak production.

Six cost items in growing pullets are chicks, feed, labor, housing, fuel and miscellaneous. Feed is the biggest major cost, points out Whitfield. The annual feed bill for a hen is around $4.

A REASONABLE housing cost for brooding, summer shelter and laying house should not run over 25 cents a pullet. A 24x96 foot laying house has 2,400 square feet of floor space and should not house over 800 pullets. To get the 800 pullets you should have started with an order for 1,000 baby pullets. That would allow 25 per cent for mortality and culling.

"Labor is probably the greatest single cost in the poultry enterprise if profit is considered as the basis of success. Just working hard with chickens never pays good wages. Flock owners who admit living with their chickens are victims of their own poor planning," continues Whitfield. "They pay dearly in extra time, poor profits and even disaster for their poor judgment. Often just starting off with the right number of chicks is all that is needed to cut labor in half and achieve success."

Feed fewer cows, get more milk

Feeding fewer cows and getting more milk may sound impossible, but at least 25 Illinois dairymen have demonstrated that it can be done.

Before they enrolled in the University of Illinois mastitis control plan, they got 500 pounds of milk a day from an average herd of just over 19 cows. Two years later they were getting 545 pounds of milk from herds averaging half a cow less.

At $4.00 a hundred pounds, this extra milk is worth $662.84 a year.

Dr. H. S. Bryan, in the College of Veterinary Medicine, says good management and sanitation plus the wise use of drugs did the job. Some of the practices that paid off for these dairymen include a laboratory examination of milk from each cow for the presence of mastitis-producing bacteria; washing each cow's udder, just before milking, with a cloth dipped in warm disinfectant; using the milker only three minutes on each cow; milking infected cows last; and eliminating obstacles that might injure cows' udders.

Dr. Bryan says, "Drugs alone may get rid of mastitis, but unless you follow with good management and sanitation, cows usually become reinfected."

Record cow

With 612 pounds of butterfat and 17,715 pounds of milk to her credit, Country Home Fayne Fern, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Martin Loeber, Palatine, has completed a 347-day production test in official Advanced Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 7 years 8 months of age when she began her testing period.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Plan pasture demonstrations on two farms in this locality

If you are a livestock producer and do not have sufficient good pasture, plan to attend one of the pasture Renovation Demonstrations which will be held Saturday, September 8, 10:00 a. m. on the Donald Buck farm, Barrington, on Healy rd., ¼ mi. north of rte. 72; or Tuesday, September 11, 1:30 p. m. at George Klein's on the Henry Berndt farm in Hanover township on Bode road, just west of Barrington road.

Both of these pastures will be renovated, treatment given seeding mixtures recommended, and seeded. How to prepare and seed a grass waterway will be demonstrated on the Klein farm. Plan to attend one or both of these meetings.

Laws regulate changing of farm drainage

W. E. Murphy of Evanston queried farm bureau head Mees regarding natural drainage provisions of Illinois farm law. The following is Mr. Mees' answer, reprinted here for benefit of all readers:

Certain common-law principles concerning the drainage of land were established by Illinois courts. The principle was set up early but it did not meet the needs of a growing agriculture. So the courts evolved the following broader rule relative to natural drainage:

"An owner whose land is so situated that it naturally drains across a lower and adjoining piece of land through natural depressions may increase the amount of flowage from his land by artificial ditches constructed on his own land, provided that the artificial ditches drain only the natural basin from which water could have flowed onto lower land."

BY AN ACT of the Legislature in 1879 the common-law principles concerning drainage were incorporated in the same statute that provided for the organization of drainage districts to drain land which could not be drained by enforcing common-law rights.

Circular 632 "Law for the Illinois Farmer" by H. W. Hannah, Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois, and a member of the Illinois Bar, is available to all.

New circular helps provide long-season pastures here

A new, easy-to-read booklet just received by Farm Adviser C. F. Mees, should be of considerable help to Cook County farmers in a six to seven months' pasture season, or even longer, on their farms.

It's Circular 682, Long-Season Pastures for Illinois. Written by W. L. Burlison, it is probably his last official publication before he tires September 1 as head of the agronomy department in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Two pasture calendars in Circular 682 should be especially helpful, the adviser believes. Each one gives 14 pasture seedings for northern or for southern Illinois. The approximate grazing period for each is also given.

If you, like many other men, have the problem of getting long-season, low-cost pastures, get your free copy of Circular 682 from the Adviser's Office the next time you're in town.

Swine raiser loses $7,000 to brucellosis

Gambling with swine brucellosis cost one northwestern Illinois farmer an estimated $7,000 in two years.

Dr. G. T. Woods of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says the disease was traced to two boars which the farmer had bought. Although no blood tests had been made, the seller assured the farmer that the animals were all right.

After many of his sows had aborted, farrowed weak or dead pigs or become sterile, the farmer had his boars tested. Both were infected.

Unless you can afford to gamble and lose, buy a boar that has a negative blood test record and that comes from a clean herd. If you can't buy from a herd showing a negative blood test, isolate the boar until he passes two negative blood tests made 30 to 60 days apart. This means that you'll have to purchase him well before breeding time.

Dr. Woods says an infected boar should be marketed, preferably after being castrated. Following these rules may save you hundreds of dollars.

Your cow won't turn up her nose at this silage

It isn't hard to make good-quality silage. And if you pay attention to a few details, your cows will smack their lips after each bite.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says the first thing to do is inspect your silo to see that it's in good condition. Make sure the walls and bottom are clean and tight. Clean, tight walls keep out air and help reduce spoilage.

CUT THE CORN at the right stage of maturity. A good rule or thumb is "Cut when most of the kernels are dented, and while the leaves are still green."

Corn cut too early will make silage that's sour and soggy. Corn cut too late makes coarse, tough silage that spoils easily. If you cut the crop at the right stage, you won't need preservatives or conditioners.

Start tramping when the silo is half-filled, and tramp thoroughly until it's full. Cover the top with weighted-down roll roofing or heavy kraft paper to keep out the air.

If you follow these suggestions, Mees guarantees that your cows will ask for "seconds" at every feeding time.

Check insulation costs in home remodeling

You should consider some type of wall insulation if you are planning an extensive remodeling job on an old farmhouse.

Whether you use a blown-in type or a bat type of wall insulation will depend on local costs for the material and labor, says Keith H. Hinchcliff, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois College of Agriculture.

If you are going to take off either the inside plaster and lath or the outside siding and sheathing during the remodeling anyway, bat or blanket type insulation will likely be cheaper, Hinchcliff points out. If you aren't planning on outside wall remodeling, blown-in type might be cheaper.

WITH ANY wall insulation, a vapor barrier on the inside wall to keep house moisture from getting inside is very important, according to the specialist. The bat and blanket type insulation has this vapor barrier already built in.

If you use blown-in insulation, you can reduce the moisture problem by ventilating the bathroom and kitchen where most inside moisture is produced, especially in the winter. Painting the inside with paint of rubber, aluminum or oil base will also help. Otherwise you are inviting trouble either in the form of paint blisters or unseen decay within the walls.

Guernsey cow record

A registered Guernsey cow, Norgert's Pal of Rolling Acres, owned by Est. N. F. McNaught, Elgin, has completed an official Advanced Registry record of 10,839 pounds of milk and 514 pounds of butterfat on twice daily milking for a ten-month period, as a 5-year-old.

"Pal" is the daughter of the registered Guernsey sire, Boulder Bridge Galahad, that has 7 daughters in the Performance Register of The American Guernsey Cattle club.

Livestock men know weather and trends but long ago gave up predicting government edicts

There is a potential beef shortage developing. So far there has been a general shift in live stock production to a more conservative basis. There is considerable adjustment taking place in long time beef production programs as well as current feeding and marketing policies.

"CATTLE ARE being marketed earlier and at lighter weights which means sacrifice of quality for lack of finish. Part of this early marketing was the result of anticipated rollbacks but existing price ceilings have generally discouraged finishing cattle in feedlots. There has been an unusual delay in marketing of grass fat cattle from pasture areas. These cattle have lacked maturity but existing price controls made it advisable to obtain maximum weight gains and finish. This will generally shift the beef supply from a high quality to a low grade basis during the early fall—followed by an extreme beef shortage during the winter.

"The late crop of long-fed cattle has shifted to a growing basis and replacements have been greatly curtailed. This would indicate a marked shortage of fed cattle during the late fall and winter and a sharp curtailment in the tonnage of the better grades of beef. Much of the delayed marketing and seasonal increase in the supply of pasture and range cattle is expected to be offset by a strong slaughter demand and greatly improved outlets for stockers and feeders.

"THE HOG market is in a vulnerable situation now that it is past its seasonally strongest position. Marketings have been relatively large for the time of year and storage returns on pork have been rather unsatisfactory. Some slight improvement resulted from slightly higher pork ceilings but the stage has been set for a very unsatisfactory fall market. While spring pig crop reports indicate increased numbers, there has been a signifi-fant shift to earlier marketing.

"This has involved earlier farrowing in the eastern Corn Belt and a shift to the quicker-maturing type of hog in the western corn belt. Also, there has been a tendency to market all hogs at lighter weights which is being reflected in an earlier topping out and in a general shift in the seasonal pork supply.

"HOG PRICES are bound to be considerably below parity and in all probability we can expect a very unfavorable feeding ratio. This would result in more liquidation and produce a market curtailment in the spring pig crop. Present price ceilings, which cannot legally be imposed with hogs below parity, offer no advantage to maintain production so it seems quite probable that a cyclical down-trend in hog production will be forced next year.

"Lamb market conditions have reflected a large summer supply and substantially lower pelt values. Much of the spring lamb crop was delayed and production was increased in the early producing areas. Thus the summer supply has been large as compared with what can be expected for the remainder of the year. There was no noticeable increase in the late range crop, thus the curtailment in fall marketings is expected to be quite significant and followed by another abnormally short fed crop.

"The dressed lamb market has been well supported by a special effort on the part of the trade to move the product through the most favorable trade channels. That involves allocation as well as distribution on a cut basis. If such trade policies continue, along with equally favorable demand conditions, plus a comeback in pelt values, the lamb production outlook seems very favorable for another season."

Don't crowd pullets or you lose half profits

Crowding pullets in brooder or laying house cuts profits in half. Each hen needs at least 3 square feet of floor space in the laying house to do her best.

W. B. Whitfield, writing for Capper's Farmer, says that "when birds have plenty of space they are healthier, lay more eggs and make more money for their owners. Crowding in summer shelters results in high percentage of cull pullets. Too many birds for the space may result in false molt and delayed laying."

Crowded pullets will be slow in getting into production, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. When they start laying at 7 or 8 months 40 to 50 per cent will be as heavy as they can lay at peak production.

Six cost items in growing pullets are chicks, feed, labor, housing, fuel and miscellaneous. Feed is the biggest major cost, points out Whitfield. The annual feed bill for a hen is around $4.

A REASONABLE housing cost for brooding, summer shelter and laying house should not run over 25 cents a pullet. A 24x96 foot laying house has 2,400 square feet of floor space and should not house over 800 pullets. To get the 800 pullets you should have started with an order for 1,000 baby pullets. That would allow 25 per cent for mortality and culling.

"Labor is probably the greatest single cost in the poultry enterprise if profit is considered as the basis of success. Just working hard with chickens never pays good wages. Flock owners who admit living with their chickens are victims of their own poor planning," continues Whitfield. "They pay dearly in extra time, poor profits and even disaster for their poor judgment. Often just starting off with the right number of chicks is all that is needed to cut labor in half and achieve success."

Feed fewer cows, get more milk

Feeding fewer cows and getting more milk may sound impossible, but at least 25 Illinois dairymen have demonstrated that it can be done.

Before they enrolled in the University of Illinois mastitis control plan, they got 500 pounds of milk a day from an average herd of just over 19 cows. Two years later they were getting 545 pounds of milk from herds averaging half a cow less.

At $4.00 a hundred pounds, this extra milk is worth $662.84 a year.

Dr. H. S. Bryan, in the College of Veterinary Medicine, says good management and sanitation plus the wise use of drugs did the job. Some of the practices that paid off for these dairymen include a laboratory examination of milk from each cow for the presence of mastitis-producing bacteria; washing each cow's udder, just before milking, with a cloth dipped in warm disinfectant; using the milker only three minutes on each cow; milking infected cows last; and eliminating obstacles that might injure cows' udders.

Dr. Bryan says, "Drugs alone may get rid of mastitis, but unless you follow with good management and sanitation, cows usually become reinfected."

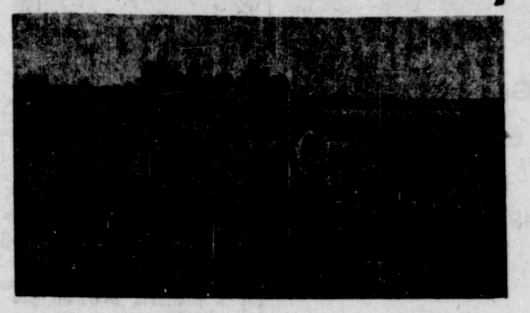
Record cow

With 612 pounds of butterfat and 17,715 pounds of milk to her credit, Country Home Fayne Fern, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Martin Loeber, Palatine, has completed a 347-day production test in official Advanced Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 7 years 8 months of age when she began her testing period.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Plan pasture demonstrations on two farms in this locality



If you are a livestock producer and do not have sufficient good pasture, plan to attend one of the pasture Renovation Demonstrations which will be held Saturday, September 8, 10:00 a. m. on the Donald Buck farm, Barrington, on Healy rd., ¼ mi. north of rte. 72; or Tuesday, September 11, 1:30 p. m. at George Klein's on the Henry Berndt farm in Hanover township on Bode road, just west of Barrington road.

Both of these pastures will be renovated, treatment given seeding mixtures recommended, and seeded. How to prepare and seed a grass waterway will be demonstrated on the Klein farm. Plan to attend one or both of these meetings.

Laws regulate changing of farm drainage

W. E. Murphy of Evanston queried farm bureau head Mees regarding natural drainage provisions of Illinois farm law. The following is Mr. Mees' answer, reprinted here for benefit of all readers:

Certain common-law principles concerning the drainage of land were established by Illinois courts. The principle was set up early but it did not meet the needs of a growing agriculture. So the courts evolved the following broader rule relative to natural drainage:

"An owner whose land is so situated that it naturally drains across a lower and adjoining piece of land through natural depressions may increase the amount of flowage from his land by artificial ditches constructed on his own land, provided that the artificial ditches drain only the natural basin from which water could have flowed onto lower land."

BY AN ACT of the Legislature in 1879 the common-law principles concerning drainage were incorporated in the same statute that provided for the organization of drainage districts to drain land which could not be drained by enforcing common-law rights.

Circular 632 "Law for the Illinois Farmer" by H. W. Hannah, Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois, and a member of the Illinois Bar, is available to all.

New circular helps provide long-season pastures here

A new, easy-to-read booklet just received by Farm Adviser C. F. Mees, should be of considerable help to Cook County farmers in a six to seven months' pasture season, or even longer, on their farms.

It's Circular 682, Long-Season Pastures for Illinois. Written by W. L. Burlison, it is probably his last official publication before he tires September 1 as head of the agronomy department in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Two pasture calendars in Circular 682 should be especially helpful, the adviser believes. Each one gives 14 pasture seedings for northern or for southern Illinois. The approximate grazing period for each is also given.

If you, like many other men, have the problem of getting long-season, low-cost pastures, get your free copy of Circular 682 from the Adviser's Office the next time you're in town.

Swine raiser loses $7,000 to brucellosis

Gambling with swine brucellosis cost one northwestern Illinois farmer an estimated $7,000 in two years.

Dr. G. T. Woods of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says the disease was traced to two boars which the farmer had bought. Although no blood tests had been made, the seller assured the farmer that the animals were all right.

After many of his sows had aborted, farrowed weak or dead pigs or become sterile, the farmer had his boars tested. Both were infected.

Unless you can afford to gamble and lose, buy a boar that has a negative blood test record and that comes from a clean herd. If you can't buy from a herd showing a negative blood test, isolate the boar until he passes two negative blood tests made 30 to 60 days apart. This means that you'll have to purchase him well before breeding time.

Dr. Woods says an infected boar should be marketed, preferably after being castrated. Following these rules may save you hundreds of dollars.

Your cow won't turn up her nose at this silage

It isn't hard to make good-quality silage. And if you pay attention to a few details, your cows will smack their lips after each bite.

If you follow these suggestions, Mees guarantees that your cows will ask for "seconds" at every feeding time.

Check insulation costs in home remodeling

You should consider some type of wall insulation if you are planning an extensive remodeling job on an old farmhouse.

Whether you use a blown-in type or a bat type of wall insulation will depend on local costs for the material and labor, says Keith H. Hinchcliff, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois College of Agriculture.

If you are going to take off either the inside plaster and lath or the outside siding and sheathing during the remodeling anyway, bat or blanket type insulation will likely be cheaper, Hinchcliff points out. If you aren't planning on outside wall remodeling, blown-in type might be cheaper.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Robert P. Vanderpoel, financial columnist of the Chicago Sun-Times, devoted his August 26 article to an explanation of how increasing federal taxes is supposed to hold down the rising cost of living. The road ahead is a bleak road though, unless the American people can find a better solution.

Vanderpoel's explanation boils down to this. The Federal government has a certain amount of money, authorized by appropriations voted by Congress and approved by the President that it is going to spend in 1952—say $1,000. Consumers also will have a certain amount of money to spend in 1952 from wages, etc.—say $2,000. That adds up to a total buying power of $3,000. But there will only be $2,700 worth of goods in 1952 that can be bought. So, say Vanderpoel and the others who defend this program, take $300 from the consumers in higher taxes to help the government pay for what it's going to spend. As Vanderpoel says: "If the money is taken away from the people through taxation, they can't spend it but if the government doesn't get the money by taxes, it can spend it anyhow. If Congress votes appropriations and fails to vote taxes to meet them, the Federal Treasury simply borrows the money. This . . . creates inflation and promotes advancing prices."

ASSUMING that higher federal taxes will check inflation in 1952 (although I strongly suspect that there are other factors which enter into the problem of inflation so that we will in fact end up with less income after taxes and higher prices), what about 1953? The Federal government is actually going to spend more dollars in 1953 than it is in 1952 . . . say $1250. If there is only $2700 worth of goods available in 1953, that will leave only $1450 in goods that consumers can buy, instead of $1700. Are we then to increase federal taxes again in 1953 to transfer more money out of the consumers' pockets into Uncle Sam's? And what about 1954? 1955? What a dismal future lies ahead for the American people down this higher tax road.

Vanderpoel points out in his column an alternative solution which we would all prefer. If Congress would cut the spending power of the Federal government, the effect on inflation would be exactly the same as increasing the tax take from consumers. However, the fact is that Congress hasn't been able to do this, or willing to do it. Despite the efforts of Senators Douglas and Dirksen from Illinois (and we in Illinois haven't much control over the Senators from the other 47 states), the Senate has in fact lagged behind the House in cutting the fat out of appropriation bills, and the House hasn't cut very deeply either. The record shows that Congress won't do a real job of cutting out the fat unless forced to. The question then seems to be this: Isn't there any simple proposal offering a solution that the American people will support which will force a balanced budget and solve the problem?

THE MOST significant statement in Vanderpoel's column was: "If by law or otherwise the government could not spend unless it previously secured the funds through taxation, quite obviously it would be possible to force reduced expenditures by refusing to vote the taxes." Vanderpoel passes this by with the statement: "Such, however, is not the case and certainly Mahin knows this." True, but isn't there in this idea the only intelligent, realistic solution to the problem of inflation, to the problem of big government constantly getting bigger, to the problem of forcing not only Congress but also the President and his whole executive branch to do a real job of balancing the budget? It works in Illinois, where we have, thank God, the constitutional requirement that the budget must be balanced if appropriations are to be valid. Why wouldn't an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, based on this principle, be a proposition we could all get behind?

I'm willing to pay higher taxes provided I can see some hope that those taxes will put the Federal government on a pay-as-you-go basis with a sound program for debt retirement. I'm not willing to pay more taxes though for guns and butter purchased by the government to keep prices high, for planes and potatoes to rot in the fields, for more GIs and more payrollers, for more pork barrel projects and more bureaus. At least give us hope, not hopelessness.

Q. If one has received a wedding invitation, and because of illness or absence, has not been able to send a wedding gift, is it all right to send this after the wedding?

A. Yes. And it would be nice to send a short note, too, giving the reason for the delay.

Q. Is it proper for two women, when they are introduced, to shake hands?

A. Usually they do not, but there is nothing improper about it.

Modern Etiquette

Q. What is the correct way to hold a fork?

A. The fork, prongs up, rests on the side of the first joint of the middle finger, and should be held in place by the tips of the thumb and the index finger. Curve the other two fingers lightly under the fork.

Q. What refreshments would be appropriate following a home wedding?

A. This would be a matter of choice. Ginger ale, fruit juice or coffee, wedding cake and a few sandwiches would be all right.

Q. What is the fee a woman is usually supposed to give the maid who helps her in a public dressing room?

A. Usually twenty-five cents.

Q. When a man and his wife are entertaining a number of guests for dinner, and dinner is announced, do both the host and hostess precede their guests into the dining room?

A. No; the host should lead the way with the most important woman guest, and the hostess goes in last of all.

Q. If grapefruit is to be served as the fruit course for a luncheon, how should it be prepared?

A. Cut across in half, cut the sections free and remove the dividing skin and seeds, then put sugar into it and allow to stand for an hour or so.

Q. When a man is escorting a woman and another man offers her a seat in a public conveyance or picks up something she has dropped, isn't he supposed to lift his hat to that man?

A. If he has any sense of courtesy, he certainly does.

Q. Is it proper to send typewritten letters of condolence?

A. No. More thoughtfulness and more sympathy are expressed when letters are written by hand.

Q. Is it necessary for a house guest to bring his hostess some kind of gift?

A. This is often done, but it is not absolutely necessary. The bread-and-butter letter is really all that is expected and required.

By George J. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Robert P. Vanderpoel, financial columnist of the Chicago Sun-Times, devoted his August 26 article to an explanation of how increasing federal taxes is supposed to hold down the rising cost of living. The road ahead is a bleak road though, unless the American people can find a better solution.

Vanderpoel's explanation boils down to this. The Federal government has a certain amount of money, authorized by appropriations voted by Congress and approved by the President that it is going to spend in 1952—say $1,000. Consumers also will have a certain amount of money to spend in 1952 from wages, etc.—say $2,000. That adds up to a total buying power of $3,000. But there will only be $2,700 worth of goods in 1952 that can be bought. So, say Vanderpoel and the others who defend this program, take $300 from the consumers in higher taxes to help the government pay for what it's going to spend. As Vanderpoel says: "If the money is taken away from the people through taxation, they can't spend it but if the government doesn't get the money by taxes, it can spend it anyhow. If Congress votes appropriations and fails to vote taxes to meet them, the Federal Treasury simply borrows the money. This . . . creates inflation and promotes advancing prices."

ASSUMING that higher federal taxes will check inflation in 1952 (although I strongly suspect that there are other factors which enter into the problem of inflation so that we will in fact end up with less income after taxes and higher prices), what about 1953? The Federal government is actually going to spend more dollars in 1953 than it is in 1952 . . . say $1250. If there is only $2700 worth of goods available in 1953, that will leave only $1450 in goods that consumers can buy, instead of $1700. Are we then to increase federal taxes again in 1953 to transfer more money out of the consumers' pockets into Uncle Sam's? And what about 1954? 1955? Vanderpoel passes this by with the statement: "Such, however, is not the case and certainly Mahin knows this." True, but isn't there in this idea the only intelligent, realistic solution to the problem of inflation, to the problem of big government constantly getting bigger, to the problem of forcing not only Congress but also the President and his whole executive branch to do a real job of balancing the budget? Presenting the Younger Generation

Chatter bug

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Palmer of 820 N. Yale ave., Arlington Heights, are the parents of the first cherub in today's grouping of the younger set.

She is Arleen Ann, who is 8 months old, and has light brown hair and blue eyes. "Arleen is a happy, active baby, loves to chatter and especially enjoys her teeter-babe," said Mrs. Palmer. She has a sister, Susan Rae, who is 6 years old and in the first grade at the North school.

Blue eyes

These big blue eyes, blond hair and pleasant smile belong to Craig Schulze, vivacious young son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Schulze of 638 S. Dryden pl., Arlington Heights.

Craig is 20 months old and has a great fascination for "choo-choos," said his mother. He has an even going personality and a vivacious spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Schulze and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rellihan of Evanston are his grandparents.

Sun bonnet Jean

In a gay pinafore and pretty sunbonnet Jean Roberta Campbell posed sweetly for this picture. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Campbell of 41 S. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights.

Jean is 14 months old and has blonde hair and blue eyes. She has two big brothers, Joseph, 13, a freshman in high school, and Jeremy, 9, in the fourth grade at the South school. The boys catch snakes as a hobby, and little Jean learned to creep by creeping after the snakes.

Mrs. A. Cunningham of Oak Park and Mrs. John Singleton of Chicago are the grandparents.

Wonderful baby

"He's just a wonderful baby," were Mrs. C. A. Storch's words when describing the little fellow pictured next. He is Robert Clemens Storch, all of 5½ months old, has red hair and blue eyes and lives with his parents at 831 S. Vail st., Arlington Heights.

"Bobby is an active baby, likes everyone and has a friendly nature," continued his young mother. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Storch of Kenilworth and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Latimer of Winnetka are his grandparents. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dana Henderson of Chicago and C. Storch of Florida who recently visited the family.

Big smile

Debra Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Harth of 544 S. Highland ave., Arlington Hts., will be 1 year old September 7. She has light brown hair, dark brown eyes and this captivating smile.

"Debra always has a big smile for everyone," stated Mrs. Harth. She is taking her first steps now, is getting into everything and loves to be right with her mother most of the time. The telephone is her main interest and manages to get her all excited every time it rings.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kirchhoff of Mt. Prospect and Mr. and Mrs. E. Harth of Arlington Heights are her grandparents.

More books leave for Marines in Korea

Shipment number two of "books for Korea" was on its way last week from the Glenview naval air station with the help of M/Sgt. Frank S. Fitzgerald and members of the Marine Air Detachment at the base.

Over 1500 pocket editions left by air for the first Marine division in Korea. At the plane to lend a helping hand was Capt. Patrick Dugan of Des Plaines, a marine pilot and forward air controller who recently returned from Korea. He is now stationed with the Marine Air Detachment.

"Reading material over there is so scarce," the captain said, "that at times the books were actually torn into sections and passed around so that everyone could read part of the story.

"The biggest problem is the waiting. And in the front lines you can do nothing but sit and sweat it out. It's then that these pocket editions come in handy."

Those interested in sending the books may contact a driver of the United Motor Coach Co.

The conference will launch a three-year program known as "forward on liberty's team" which Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, says, seeks to help the boys of America develop the kind of character and citizenship that these modern times demand."

Six of the speakers outside the Boy Scout organization will address the conference in morning sessions.
